THE VICE-PRESIDENT.

One of the novel features of the political campaign this year is the attention that is being paid to the selection of candidates for vice president.

This is a decided change from former presidential years, and it is certainly an excellent change. Heretofore there has been too little attention paid to the choosing of candidates for this high and honorable, as well as important position,

the choice has been nominally for vice president who were not in complete harmony with the views and policy of the heads of the tickets, and who would never have been nominated for president, and certainly would not have been elected to the presidency. Yet no one can tell when the vice president may be called upon suddenly to assume the duties of president. How essential, therefore, that only the ablest men should be nominated for vice president, and, furthermore, that the candidates for president and vice president on one ticket shall be in thorough accord on all the political issues.

The Boston Globe, in a recent article discussing this subject, said: "The importance of securing a vice presidential nominee who is known to be in general sympathy with the head of the ticket seems to be appreciated by the public

this year more than ever. The American people are evidently in no mood to take chances in the next election, whatever decision the electoral urns may register in November next. That this is so affords cause for general congratula-tion. It may indeed be wished that the vice president, as such, might occupy a place of greater importance than present conditions allow. But so long as we have a vice president—a possible

president of the United States—it is surely reasonable and becoming that nominations to the office of vice president should be made, not in haste, but in the closing hours of a national convention, but deliberately, carefully and thoughtfully, with due regard to the illuminating and costly lessons conveyed in the history of our national administrations."

The fact that the candidates for president are already selected upon by all the great political parties has naturally directed more attention to be paid this year, so far in advance of the conventions, to the choosing of nominees for vice president. This discussion will probably result in better nominations

than in the past.

The New York

World publishes Tuesday, the reply

sent by Mr. Towne

to its telegram

questioning his views on the Democratic platform. Editorially, it says:

"The question put by the World, in view of the Democratic platform, is: 'What platform?'—elicits further notable responses

in our news columns today. Senator Jones, chairman of the Democratic national committee, ex-Governor Deles, former Congressman Towne (an intimate friend of Mr. Bryan), and Hon. Chauncey F. Back, president of the National Association of Democratic Clubs, give their views in answers which reflect in a striking and powerful manner the spirit of the World's editorial. The conclusions of the editorial, the careful consideration of the man who will dictate the platform—Mr.

Bryan. Chairman Jones makes this statement: "The answer to the question of the unjust and un-American a year; a commissioner of the Interior

at $4000 a year; a commissioner of education at $3000 a year; a chief justice of the supreme court at $4500 a year

each; a marshal of the supreme court at $2000 a year; a United States district judge at $3000 a year; a United States district attorney at $4000 a year; a

United States district marshal at $2500

a year; three members of a commissioner to codify the laws of the island at $5000 a year; five members of the executive, whose salaries are to be fixed by the Porto Rican legislature.

The Porto Ricans are to name: One commissioner to the United States at $5000 a year; thirty-five members of the lower house of the legislature, who will be paid $5 a day when in session.

Thus it will be seen that the president appoints the governor and the executive council, the members of the upper branch of the legislature and the judges. In fact, through his appointment he appoints every official on the island.

Formally the people are allowed a share in the government through the lower house of the legislature. This is a mere form, however, since every act originally introduced is subject to the approval of the president himself or his creatures.

The principle of taxation without representation is established. It is executive, not parliamentary govern-

The president's power over Porto

Rico is greater than that of any other executive in the civilized world, save only the czar of Russia. The German emperor is subject to many limitations and constitutional restrictions. The president has practically a free hand in Porto Rico. He has imperial power, and as he governs outside of the constitution, he is not even exposed to impeachment. The Porto Ricans may well pray that their despot may be taken in the matter.

If the majority party in congress could only repeal the discriminatory and proprietary stamp taxes without raising other questions of tax repeal or reduction, a bill to that effect would undoubtedly go through congress in short order. But this partial repeal of the war taxes involves a fight with the great brewing interests, which have immense influence in politics, and which would demand the repeal of the extra dollar tax on beer. It would raise up the further disturbing question: Why not repeal or modify the tariff taxes which protect the combinations in sugar charges imposed on the home market? All of which, as the Springfield Republican says, explains why the Republicans hesitate to take any action.

The New Tribune is much rejoiced to find that the St. Paul Dispatch has changed front on the Porto Rican question. In order to consistently support Republicanism, the Tribune must support the Democratic platform. It is one of the very few of the many papers which have been so far in advance of the conventions, to the choosing of nominees for

vice president. This discussion will probably result in better nominations

than in the past.

Washington, April 19.—In further response to the senate resolution of Jan.

the senate additional documents bearing upon the insurrection in the Philippines. The papers are a report of Col. Armas

Blanco, of the Philippine army, to the 'general commanding the second zone'

of the events of Feb. 2, 1899, in Tondo.

He says that on hearing the alarm of fire he immediately ordered twenty men who gathered to hold themselves hour arrived they would be ready to go to Manila, where the American bar-acks were then on fire. The houses

The result was that on marching to the scene of operations we found the Cazadilla of Acacangan was filled with

Americans and with them were a number of country people who cried out:

'Brothers, to the strife, for now is the time.' This was the first time we saw that crowd and at the proper time they sounded the call of our army, 'Advance.' The sight of that strange scene threw us into confusion for we believed that all we had prepared for was a beginning as well as what we saw was prepared by the enemy and his spies. He then ordered the firing of the guns. The

FIGHTING
AT KAREE

Battle at the Siding May Mean That Roberts Is Winning.

GENSO IS ON GUARD

Extraordinary Precautions Taken to Suppress News of Operations.

London, April 20, 11:15 a. m.--A special dispatch from Bloemfontein, under yesterday's date, says firing is reported to be in progress south of Karee Siding, six miles north of Glen. The strength of the Boers is not known. The British infantry, supported by artillery, hold a strong position on a large dam.

London, April 20, 1:50 p. m.--The report of the fighting at Karee Siding, six miles north of the Glen, contained in a special dispatch from Bloemfontein today, may be the first news of the progress of the British advance on Pretoria, but even if it were only an unimportant skirmish there are many other indications that Lord Roberts is either standing or has already started for the northern goal.

A dispatch from Cape Town, under today's date, says:

"The censorship restrictions have been greatly increased owing to the movement of the troops."

All the dispatches bear traces of the strenuous efforts of the correspondents to give their papers an inkling of what is afoot.

The Boers south of Bloemfontein are reported to be retreating. Large commands were seen April 19 near the Nchu moving to the north. Their progress was slow, however, owing to the terrible conditions.

By way of Pretoria comes a report that fever is bad in Mafeking, and a letter says that the British asked Col. Baden-Powell to hold out until May 20.

Cecil Rhodes returns to Cape Town tomorrow. The announcement of his departure was unexpected. Never was a man so prominently connected with the vital questions of the day who paid such a quiet visit to London. It is learned that the South African "business" came to England purely on a business connected with the British Chartered South Africa company and the De Beers Mines company. He has accomplished his objects and has suddenly determined to return to South Africa, where he will watch the interests of his companies.

Mr. Rhodes has absolutely refused to be interviewed, though privately he has expressed something of a desire to see the general still holding commands at the front.

Lady Gatacre will be a fellow passenger of Mr. Rhodes. She is going as far as Madeira to meet her husband, the British general, who has been sent back to England.

RAIN HINDERS OPERATIONS.

Movements in Southwestern Free State Well Blocked.

London, April 20, 4:15 a. m.--A deluge of rain, lasting ten days, has brought the operations in the southwestern part of the Free State almost to a standstill. The creeks have become roaring rivers and the roads are streams of mud.

A singular message, dated Bloemfontein, April 19, 10:55 a. m., and beginning "via press censor," reports an exchange of shots in the direction of De Wets Dorp, where the Boers are said to be concentrating "after their withdrawal from Wepener."

There is nothing else to indicate that the movement of Wepener has been abandoned by the Boers. Notwithstanding the rain, however, the British have made some progress, as the Wets Dorp has been occupied by them, probably by the advance of Gen. Rindler's division. De Wets Dorp is about twenty-four miles from Wepener.

An obscure message from Aliwal North, dated April 19, says that Gen. Buller has arrived there, but whether he returned alone or with his troops is not clear.

Boer reports from Aliwal North aver that from 8000 to 10,000 Boers are at Wepener.

Gen. Hunter, from Natal, commanding the newly formed division, arrived at Bloemfontein yesterday (Thursday) and left immediately after conferring with Lord Roberts. To what point he proceeded is not mentioned, but it is understood that he will operate west of Bloemfontein.

The Bloemfontein correspondent of the Daily Chronicle, telegraphing Thursday, says: The regular reinforcements and equipments have arrived and all the infantry divisions are now supplied with tents. The Boers in the immediate neighborhood are quiet, but both sides are steadily preparing for the coming struggle. Lord Roberts is now ready. Several lots of concealed arms and ammunition have been discovered this week. The epidemic of enteric fever is abating.

A dispatch to the Morning Post from Kimberley, dated Wednesday, says: Lord Methuen has issued a proclamation forbidding civilians to carry arms without military permits and ordering rebels to surrender all modern serviceable weapons by May 8. At present the military are busily occupied with searching for arms and arresting rebels, but everything points to an early advance.

STEEL BRIDGE COMBINE.

Nearly All of the Large Concerns Are Included.

New York, April 20.--The American Bridge company, incorporated at Trenton a few days ago with a nominal capital of $100,000, which may be increased to $10,000,000, of which $20,000,000 shall be 7 per cent cumulative preferred stock and $80,000,000 common, is said to include most of the prominent steel bridge manufacturing companies of the country, the negotiations for which were started about a year ago.

FRIENDS
AT COURT

Alleged That Roberts Criticized Methuen and That It Was Suppressed.

MAY SQUARE BULLER

Theory That Roberts May Send Another Commentary Praising Him.

New York, April 20.--A special to the Tribune from London says: A complete embargo upon war news leaves the press free to continue its discussion of Gen. Roberts' commentaries upon the unsuccessful battles of British generals. The charge is made that Gen. Methuen's report of the battle of Magersfontein was accompanied by a criticism from Gen. Roberts which has been suppressed by the war office. If this has been done, it is possible that the queen's wishes have been respected. Gen. Methuen has been a favorite at court, and the queen was highly pleased with his work in organizing the jubilee parade. It is not, however, the practice of the queen to interfere with the decisions of any department of the service, and it is not probable that she has made Gen. Methuen's case an exception to her general rule.

Lord Lansdowne and Gen. Methuen are warm friends. The selection of the guard's general as a division commander was probably due to Lord Lansdowne's preference, and the strictures upon his conduct may have been suppressed on that account. It is not a high-spirited soldier and he is not a controversialist. Such controversial points as were raised were considered, rather than living scores. Gen. Roberts may not have considered it either necessary or expedient to discuss them.

Gen. Methuen has not been sent home like Gen. Gatacre, but he has been taken out of the fighting line and has not been overwhelmed with praise of affection and favoritism. Gen. Methuen, moreover, has three victories to his credit, and deserves consideration on that account.

Army officers cannot complain that they have been rigorously disciplined during the campaign. There have been many failures and mistakes, but Gatacre is the only general relieved of command, and Col. Gifford is the only minor officer removed from the active list and placed on half pay.

Gen. Buller and Gen. Warren are not expected by their friends to remain in Natal after being publicly exposed to censure from Lord Roberts. Buller is a high-spirited soldier and he will feel keenly the injustice of being removed from command in Natal after his success in relieving Ladysmith. But his recall is looked for in military circles.

Gen. Warren has been highly respected in South Africa, and Cecil Rhodes has been one of his warm personal friends. He is a popular man, and among the Aldershot set, and is neither a courtier nor a carpet knight. Gen. Warren, however, has been a failure in South Africa, and he is not expected to remain in command.

Some experts suggest that Gen. Roberts' comments on the Spion Kop affair may have been enough to enable Gen. Buller to set himself right by relieving Ladysmith, and that there will be a second chapter on the final chapter of the campaign which will be complimentary to Buller and will enable him to remain in command.

Gen. Roberts seems to hold every military reputation in South Africa in the palm of his hand. The war office may exercise a suspensive veto, but whenever Gen. Roberts' opinion is known the matter is settled. He is not a courtier, and there is no appeal from him.

News from all sources is so meagre that it is scarcely possible to print a summary of it. Much is going on, and the Wepener affair is not ended, but the census is keeping everything back.

The Dutch envoys have taken Holland and Queen Wilhelmina received them graciously. European courts, under the leadership of Germany, stand aloof.

The Australian delegates who are alleged to bring about a confederation on Canadian lines will be accorded a brilliant reception at the National Liberal club on May 2, with Lord Rosebery as the special patron.

ASHANTI WAR.

The Trouble Is Spreading and Loyal Natives Are Massacred.

Lagos, British West Africa, April 20.--Three hundred Nigerian troops have been dispatched over land to the Naiman country, northwest of Ashanti, where the British residents report a recrudescence of the troubles which necessitated the expedition of last year. One hundred and fifty other troops are proceeding from the gold coast.

Acra, Gold Coast Colony, West Africa, April 20.--The governor, Sir Mitchell Hodgson, wires from Kumasi that the other tribes are rising again, and he asks for assistance.

The loyal Bekus have been attacked by the Ashantis and 500 have been killed. It is feared that this will compel them to join the rebellion.

Swiss troops in the Ashanti are extremely serious, and was minimized until it was too late.

MURDER AT ASHLAND.

John Taggart's Dead Body Found in a Ravine.

Ashland, Wis., April 20.--John Taggart was found murdered here Wednesday night, his body carried to a high bridge and thrown overboard. Officers have chased an unknown negro tramp into the forests north of Ashland. Robbery was the motive for the murder.

DAMAGE IS APPALLING

Losses From Floods in the South Already Amount to Millions.

THE END IS NOT YET

It Is Feared That the Worst Is Yet to Come.

New Orleans, April 20.--New Orleans has ceased to regard the flood situation as a temporary inconvenience. As time has passed and as the full scope of the disaster which visited this section of the country in the early days of the week and still continues has been learned, the conviction has been irresistibly brought home that a calamity of appalling magnitude has been experienced, and that instead of the worst being over, the evil has just begun. There are now within the gates of the city no less than 500 water-bound travelers, who are not only unable to return to their homes now, but who do not know when they will be able to leave.

Partial reports of the damage incurred in the state belt have been the figures up into the millions, and taking into consideration the losses, the amount looks up to an enormous figure.

The Illinois Central railroad system has incurred damages which will amount to hundreds of thousands of dollars, figuring the loss of business, and the end is not yet. Not only was that road tied up today, but there is no telling when the trains will be able to run. The same state of affairs prevails on the other Southern roads. The streams are still rising and rains continue to fall today.

Isolated news is just now beginning to arrive regarding the loss of life. Four people were drowned near Hattisburg, Miss.

The three bridges between East and West Enterprise were swept away. The latter was a building, which was the pride of the town, is swept away. A number of buildings were also demolished.

Shubuta and Desoto, Miss., are completely inundated.

The floods have been worse than ever before known, and today's advice may bring additional news of disaster and loss of life.

Jackson, Miss., April 20.--A large section of the southern part of the city has been cut off by the floods. Town creek and numerous families have been compelled to move from their homes. To a section of this city Pearl river has spread over the country for a distance of six miles and is rising at a rapid rate.

PEARL RIVER RAGING.

Reaches the Highest Mark for Nearly Thirty Years.

New Orleans, April 20.--Advices today from Pearl River say that the river has reached its highest mark since 1874. The timber booms began breaking up and thousands of dollars' worth of timber has been floated out to sea. All business on the river is at a standstill and sawmills have been disarranged or destroyed. The water has reached the first floors of all stores along the river. All steamers lying at the wharves in the neighborhood of Pearl River with steam up in case of emergency. Traffic of all kinds is suspended and the water is still rising.

Every bridge from Pearl River to Logansport has been swept away and the water in the public roads is deep enough to swim a horse. People living on the Louisiana side have been forced to abandon their homes and flee to the Mississippi side for safety. Hundreds of people have been drowned, and the reason for the trouble is that the big boats are too heavily loaded. Times when there have been seven feet of water over the tunnel. It is asserted, are few and far between.

The blockade brings up the question of lowering the tunnels and decreasing the current in the river into the public consideration with renewed emphasis. Grain dealers and vessel owners declare that something must be done, or its interests will suffer heavily.

FLOOD STOPS MILLS.

High Water in Wisconsin Rivers Paralyzes Industries.

Milwaukee, Wis., April 20.--An Evening Wisconsin special from Grand Rapids, Wis., says: The pulp mill of the John Edwards Paper plant has been forced to close down by night.

An Evening Wisconsin special from Eau Claire, Wis., says: High water in the Chippewa river has stopped two sawmills, pulp and paper mills and linen mill. Electric cars cannot run after 6 p. m., as light and power plant has been partially disabled.

ENTERPRISE DEVASTATED.

Avridian, Miss., April 20.--The town of Enterprise, on the Mobile & Ohio, and surrounding country have been devastated by a flood of water caused by the bursting of the Wanita cotton mill dam, six miles above Enterprise. The dam enclosed ten acres of water fifteen feet deep. Many buildings in the path of the waters were swept from foundations and lost. It is reported that several persons were drowned in the Chucky river swamps. No relief has yet been afforded the thirty-five water-bound passengers at Quitman. Railway traffic throughout the state is almost paralyzed.

QUIET AT CROTON.

But Only a Few Men Report for Work.

Croton Landing, April 20.--Every day since the strike at the Croton dam, only a few men report for work. This force is wholly inadequate to prosecute the work.

MELVILLE FOR CONGRESS.

Orville, Ohio, April 20.--The seventh district Republican congressional convention nominated Col. Melville, of Gillette for congress by acclamation. Delegates were selected to the Philadelphia convention.

NEW ERA
TO BEGIN

Plans of the New Steamship Line Between Duluth and Montreal.

FOR OCEAN SERVICE

In the Fall the Boats Will Proceed to the Atlantic.

Chicago, April 20.--(Special to The Herald.)--The plans for the new steamship line between Duluth and Montreal, announced today, give a much greater importance to the project than the establishment of another lake line. The building of these boats will be the beginning of an era when the lake shipping will take a leading place in the construction of light draft ships for ocean service.

Before the ice blocks the way next December four lake-built, light draft boats will be in the Atlantic, and more will be under construction.

The new company will be known as the International Navigation company, and its president will be A. B. Wolvin, of Duluth. The other officials have not yet been decided upon. Its headquarters will be at Duluth.

Its fleet, already under contract, will consist of three steamers and three barges. Construction will begin at once on four of the boats, which will be completed early next fall. They will be two barges, to be built at West Superior, and two steamers, to be built at Lorain, Ohio. The steamers will have quadruple expansion engines, of the same class as those now in the Pennsylvania, and Babcock & Wilcox boilers. The new line will operate during the season of navigation between Duluth and Montreal, carrying freight to the ocean steamers at the latter point. Before the ice stops every-thing on the lakes the ships will be on their way to the Atlantic.

A new type of vessel has been evolved, suitable for carrying heavy loads in comparatively shallow water, with the engines aft, as in lake vessels, and with changes in the hatchways, and this type will be used in the construction of the new vessels.

GRAIN TIED UP.

Two Million Bushels Stranded in Chicago River by Low Water.

Chicago, April 20.--An estimate made today has it that 2,000,000 bushels of grain are tied up along the Chicago river. The grain is loaded in forty vessels, and many of these it is said, cannot get out of the harbor because of the low level of the river caused by the drainage canal. The level of the river is only sixteen feet over the street railway tunnels, while the blockaded vessels are drawing seventeen feet.

The smaller vessels which might pass safely over the tunnels are affected indirectly. They are waiting for the larger boats to break up the ice in the straits.

Trustees of the drainage canal say the canal is responsible for lowering the level of the river into the public consideration with renewed emphasis. Grain dealers and vessel owners declare that something must be done, or its interests will suffer heavily.

STATISTICS OF MANUFACTURE.

Special Census Agent to Be Appointed for Duluth.

Washington, April 20.--Director of the Census Merriam has issued an interesting statement relative to statistics of manufacture. It shows the number of special agents to be named to gather information concerning manufacturing in the United States. Under provision of law the director has full authority in cities and towns to withdraw the regular enumeration schedules referring to manufacturing and mechanical industries, and to charge the collection of these statistics to special agents. The cities and towns where special agents are to be appointed are as follows:

First Congressional district--One special agent each for Rochester, Winona, Owatonna, Albert Lea, Austin, Wabasha and Waseca.

Second Congressional district--One each for Mankato, New Ulm and St. Peter.

Third district--Faribault, Hastings, South St. Paul and Red Wing.

Fourth district--St. Paul and Stillwater, seven special agents.

Fifth district--Including Minneapolis, West Minneapolis, St. Louis Park and Ancker, from the Sixth district, twenty special agents.

Sixth district--One each for Duluth, Brainerd, Little Falls, St. Cloud.

Seventh district--One each for Fergus Falls, Crookston and Moorhead.

In North Dakota, Fargo and Grand Forks will each have a special agent, and South Dakota, Sioux Falls and Yankton.

It is only in cities where there is any manufacturing of importance that these special agents are named. Otherwise the regular enumerators do the work. The list of enumerators from all states is now practically complete, and final instructions are now being sent out from the census bureau here.

STORM IS

More Trouble Over Porto Rico Rico Is Expected in the House.

LAW IS DEFECTIVE

The President Has Not Time to Carry Out Its Provisions.

From The Herald
Washington Bureau.

Washington, April 20.--(Special to The Herald.)--Scientific experts who have some knowledge and more experience concerning the swift changes in the tropical atmosphere are predicting another Porto Rico storm. While it is certain they do not anticipate anything like the tornado that swept over the island last summer, and which had its legislative counterpart in the senate and house within the past two months, it is nevertheless a fact that there is a Caribbean whirlwind brewing in the house. Chairman Cooper of the committee on insular affairs is not slow to see an opportunity. He is too good a musician to neglect to sound a keynote whenever the occasion demands. Less than two weeks ago Cooper, as chairman of the committee appointed by Speaker Henderson to consider and report on all legislation concerning our new insular possessions, sat silent in the house while the Porto Rico bill, as it came from the senate, providing for a local government for the people, passed the house. There were several members who went to Cooper and asked him to protest that the senate amendments for civil government had never been referred to Cooper's committee. The bill, when it came back laden with so many changes that Payne and Dazell failed to recognize it, was referred to the ways and means committee, and by that committee reported and put through the house.

But now behold, amendments are needed once. The president cannot carry out the provisions of the Porto Rico bill between now and May 1. The appointments to be made under the provisions of the bill which Senator Foraker drafted and forced through the senate and house, cannot be announced by May 1. Hence, there must be additional legislation.

Foraker got a resolution through the senate yesterday extending the time of the present military officers who are acting in civil capacities until June 1. The resolution has come to the house, and Cooper and his insular committee now propose to go into the amendment business themselves. They will, therefore, change the senate resolution so that all franchises in Porto Rico will be granted only after they have been the most rigid examination into the financial condition of those making applications. There will also be several other amendments offered, and the house will be asked to exercise its prerogatives in standing by the committee on insular affairs.

It is possible that there will be another Porto Rico debate precipitated, although the house leaders deprecate anything of the kind.

House Ways and Means Committee Shunts Tawney's Oleo Resolution.

Washington, April 20.--The ways and means committee, at a special meeting today, heard requests of the customs examiners who work under the appraisers for an increase in the limit of pay, from $2500 to $4000, which increase of limit, if it is allowed, will permit a regrading of these officials.

At an executive session of the committee the Tawney resolution calling on the commissioner of internal revenue to make known the ingredients of oleomargarine was referred to a sub-committee, consisting of Messrs. Dazell, Underwood and Tawney. Mr. Tawney said after the meeting that the sub-committee stood two to one against the proposition, and, therefore, would hold no meeting.

LOOKING FOR TROUBLE.

Witnesses Say That Scott Was on Colson's Trail.

Frankfort, Ky., April 20.--Joe C. Parker, of Mercer county, was the first witness introduced today in the Colson trial. He related the conversation that occurred between Scott and Golden a short while before the shooting.

William Smoot, of Franklin county, overheard Scott and Golden talking, just a few minutes before the tragedy. He heard Scott say:

"This new rule has been brewing long enough, and has got to end now."

To which Golden replied: "Whatever you do, don't let him get the drop on you."

After this, Smoot saw them enter the Capin hotel.

Kitt Chinn, son of Col. Jack Chinn, and a well-known horseman, said when Golden and Scott were standing by the cigar case, Golden, after looking around the lobby, whispered to Scott, who in turn whispered to Golden.

GOWN MODELED BY DOUCET

A Wonderful Creation Combining All That the Tailor's Skill and the Artist's Conception Can Achieve.

The Continued Use of Long Sleeves For the of Guipure Lace. Dinner Toilette.

Paris, April 10.—(Special to The Herald.)—After the long enforced Lenten rest, society once more throws itself into a turmoil of pleasures before it seeks the quietude of country life. Banquets and dinners recur with particular frequency at this time, and the "dinner-toilette" is therefore in great demand. At an important diplomatic banquet where beauty and wit will unite to impress the stamp of perfection upon the feast, the beautiful golden-haired Comtesse de G. will wear a gown modeled by Doucet—a wonderful creation combining all that the tailor's skill and the artist's conception can achieve.

Soft white crepe de chine over a lining of white satin composes the foundation of the Princess form, which closes at the back by means of white silk lacing. The front gown of crepe de chine preserves admirably the straight long-waisted effect now so fashionable, and extends in unbroken lines to the hem of the long skirt. The sides and back formed by the curves of the jet insertions are filled out with an embroidery white chenille, silver thread, silver spangles, jet and straw. The effect is highly artistic. The décolleté bodice is of the same guipure, and the jet and short point below the waistline, but the front has an inserted vest of crimped jacket. The back is close fitting with a short point below the waistline, but the front has an inserted vest of crimped white tulle which gives a house effect, the fullness of which is gathered into the deep point formed in front by the jet insertion. The sleeves of plain guipure are very tight and very long, ending in long points over the hand. These long sleeves of transparent materials are a welcome innovation for dinner dresses, as they take the place of gloves and so dispense with that unfinished appearance which spoils the unglorified arm of a sleeveless dinner toilette during the feast.

But the long sleeve is by no means the criterion of the present tendency of fashion, for in this particular instance that little dame surpasses herself.

A Virot hat of cream-colored straw, trimmed with a drapery of violet tulle and iris blossoms.

straight, scarf ends to fall low on the skirt. With the fichu, the short elbow sleeves will make a picturesque combination. They will be trimmed with a soft bouffé or fall of lace and will add not a little to the cool and fresh aspect of a dainty summer toilette.

FELIX FOURNIERY.

SPRING HEADWEAR.

Variety is the Keynote of the Season in Paris.

New York, April 18.—The Paris correspondent of the Millinery Trade Review writes: Every industrial center in France has been put on its mettle this of a superior grade. This is explained by the necessity of obtaining novelty with less expenditure of personal skill. When skill and taste are carried to their highest expression, material becomes almost a secondary consideration, for skill and taste will succeed in producing models differing entirely in effect, although composed of similar materials. Here is a case in point: In no line is greater variety to be found than in lace-straw braids and ornaments composed of straw; well, I do not find the first millinery firms going in for them to any very great extent, whereas they flood the workrooms of milliners who turn out hats by the gross, and the list stores. But as I am writing for all classes of the trade, I may do well to point some of the novelties in this line before proceeding to other matters.

The straw button is one of these; it is the exact reproduction in straw of the small, classic, silk-covered button on which the silk is arranged so as to divide the button into four segments. There are also tiny rosettes of Tuscan straw, which are arranged in the same manner. All three are used to ornament straw braids of all kinds, to aid in the carrying out of designs in colored satin straw on white net. Delicate tints are usually chosen for this work, such as pale and sky-blue tints, quince, willow and reed greens, rose and China pinks.

The use of a covering for tulle shapes gives them a seasonable aspect not to be found in hats made entirely of gossamer, so much worn at the latter end of the winter.

Tulle is married to straw in another manner. Bands of tulle insertion woven in imitation of macramé and cluny, have narrow bands of tulle drawn through the holes, and only apparent on close inspection, the general effect being merely to soften down and render the tulle more lustrous. This method of softening by tulle is also applied to fruits and berries, which promise to be held in immense favor. A film of tulle over a ruddy or deep-purple blackberry, gives it almost a natural bloom. Green and purple plums, treated in this way, gain much in effect.

It is early yet for the introduction of autumn fruits, but season is nowadays disregarded, whereas formerly Paris milliners would have considered it an error against taste to do so, as it would have been deemed also to use velvet and satin in summer, or gossamer in winter. True, berries and fruits are frequently mounted with bunches of their spring blossoms, and the combination of snowy straw worked in different materials, the spangles only being chosen for the lighter work, such as net palms and the like. Out of looped fringes of raphia worked over a mesh, are made rosettes and even flowers, the heart consisting of a tuft or cluster of stamens. The tufts and rosettes made of a number of loops, composed each of two or three strands of straw, are made in the same manner, and are made in the same manner, and are made in the same manner.

Some new capotes claim particular attention. There is one style that is quite new, and has yet hardly had time to be talked about; it appears to be composed of roses only, but there is small, cap-shaped foundation of crinoline braids and tulle worked with satin straw, or rose foliage. The flowers are placed symmetrically on each side, just behind the temples, and may consist of two large, full-blown roses on each side, or of two circular bunches of half-open buds; these almost meet in front, the interval being filled in with a handsome ornament in small. Whether this style is likely to be at all widely adopted is a question; still, there is a tendency toward the fashions of 1830, of which this is a revival, brought about by the production of Sarah Bernhardt's new creation, "L'Aiglon," which has made such a stir.

Stylish spring costume by Longuin. Skirt and jacket of pastel blue cloth, with rich application of white tulle, and white tulle, embroidered with blue dots. Sash and collar decoration of black tulle.

white flowers with blackberries, plums, or cherries, is very happy.

The cherries of today, however, are not the close imitations of the natural fruit they were last year, but little balls of red, deep red, or black velvet. I think I may safely say that the hat of the month here is one of light-brims and straw trimmed with a good-sized bunch of red or black velvet cherries, sometimes the two combined, mounted on "natural" stalks pendant to a bit of brown stem, with the addition of some small, green leaf and again a bunch of white bloom.

There hats are invariably small, sometimes of the Tudor built—that is to say, with a wide crown and narrow brim, rolled slightly over at the edge, sometimes turned so as to form a rim, and sometimes with a wide brim, so draped about the edge as to become quite narrow. Anyone not in the secret would never suppose that to build up the last of millinery styles requires a platen measuring twenty inches across, and of thin satin between each braid is an improvement.

The straw ornamentation which has the approval of the milliners is the satin or raphia straw embroidery executed on tulle. In my last letter I described some models covered with white tulle and worked in this way in black; these will continue very fashionable, as there is little doubt but that the combination of black and white will enjoy considerable favor throughout the season. The still greater novelty, however, are the floral arabesques executed in sol or thin satin between each braid is an improvement.

An infinite amount of care, patience, industry, and artistic skill has been exercised in the production of the materials that compose the Parisian hats of 1900, and in devising new modes of arranging in tissues, trimmings, furnishings of all kinds, and in the diversity of the methods employed to build them up into article of dress.

The straw trade on the one hand, the producers of textiles united to millinery (more especially gossamer fabrics), of ribbons, fancy trimmings, lace flowers and foliage, on the other, have combined to render the situation a bewildering one by reason of the multiplicity of materials offered. Milliners are called upon to make choice from such a well-garnished store that they have to exercise an unusual amount of circumspection in the matter. As you are by now pretty faithfully posted up with all the materials adopted by the best houses, it is noteworthy that the general trade—the second and third-rate establishments—exhibit a tendency to extend favor to a much wider range of goods than those

MILLINERY.

The ladies of Duluth are misinformed when they say Millinery is high, for you can buy artistic creations at a reasonable price at the exclusive Millinery store. Read some of the following prices—

Trimmed Hats from $2.85 to $5.00, worth twice as much. Trimmed Hats from $5.00 to $15.00, worth much more. Trimmed Hats $5 to $40.00. In fact we have hats to suit everyone's pocket-book.

We must not forget to mention ready-to-wear hats: The Pomour, a nobby black hat, worth $1.75, will be placed on sale tomorrow at $1.00. Single Braid Sailors at 50c and 75c, worth from 75c to $1.00. And many others it will pay you to inspect.

forms and plateaux that may be so easily transformed according to the fancy of the milliner.

The fashion in which some of the new hats are intended to be worn also modifies their appearance; thus some of the broader brimmed hats are placed almost at the back of the head, so that the brim forms a halo about the face, while others, also raised in front, are tilted to one side, a flute given to the brim over the left brow, bringing it down so as to droop over the ear. At the same time, many of the hats with broad or medium brims are made to be worn forward, with the brim overhanging the brow; some of these have a decided dip in front and curve up on both sides, a little more on the left than on the right; others are turned up frankly against the crown on the left. It is more often rice-straw and Leghorns that assume these shapes. The brims are more or less accented with the brim overhanging the brow; some of these have a decided dip in front and curve up on both sides, a little more on the left than on the right; others are turned up frankly against the crown on the left.

With the horrors that are passing in India, the general public in England seems to be very little concerned. It has no thought, apparently, for anything at present, but the war in South Africa, and it would seem as though nothing but some startling incident arising out of the desperate condition of the people would rouse them to a sense of the danger threatening British rule in India. The India press, with its eye ever fixed on the draconian press law lately passed by the British government, is conspicuously profuse in its expressions of loyalty to British rule, but it is notorious that the spirit of disaffection is spreading all over India, and that to such an extent that very general riot is being kindled among Anglo-Indians that the large contingent sent from India to the army in South Africa was withdrawn from the country.

THE INDIAN FAMINE.

Famine in India continues its devastating work and there are now 5,000,000 people actually dependent on government relief works, with nearly four times the number on the verge of starvation, and nearly 25,000,000 living on insufficient food. The death rate is so excessive that large areas will suffer for lack of population for years. A letter from Calcutta, written at the end of January, gives a shocking account of the condition of the people in the famine-stricken districts, and a dismal outlook for the future, says the New York Sun.

In Rajputana the villagers before getting relief had been reduced to eating the leaves of the papal tree and oil cake ordinarily fed to cattle. This diet so injures their digestive organs that when they come on the relief works, the return to common food disagrees with them and they die by hundreds. From that cause and from utter exhaustion, deaths are so numerous on the relief works that fires are kept burning night and day without intermission, to burn the bodies of the victims. In Rajputana, as in the Bombay presidency and Baroda, the scarcity of water is added to the lack of food. In ordinary times the rainfall is not too great in these high lands, but now the country is approaching the aspect of a desert. The cattle are dying off like flies, and cannot be sold at one rupee now as compared with the ordinary price of fifty or seventy-five rupees. Numbers of people die on their way to the relief works, and children are constantly being picked up by the sides of their dead mothers. With the scarcity of food prices have risen, and where in ordinary times life could be sustained on three rupees or 36 cents a month, it now requires from one to two rupees more. The resources at the disposal of the Indian government are totally inadequate to meet the increasing want of the population, and the contributions from private sources are so infinitesimal as compared with the needs, that unless the British parliament takes some action a complete collapse of the efforts to stem the ravages of the famine is threatened.

What seems remarkable in the midst of the misery of the people is that so few of the wealthy Indians seem to be doing anything worth speaking of to aid their poorer fellow-countrymen. There are native nobles and princes possessed of great wealth, some even of colossal fortunes, yet hear of no great organized movement on their part to rise to the level of the occasion. They seem to be content to leave everything to official initiative and official control, which is always slow and seldom sympathetic. While, unfortunately, relief funds administered by religious bodies are too frequently used for sectarian ends, and yet the people with their strong race and caste prejudices from availing themselves of the generous intentions of the donors.

THE FAMILY IDEA.

The surface course of failure in the case of "Appletons" and in that of "Harpers" are widely different. But going beneath the surface we do not find close similarity," says the New York World.

Both "Harpers" and "Appletons" were family institutions. In both the central idea was to keep the firm in "the family" to found and maintain a "family" upon a commercial enterprise. Both attempts ended in disastrous failure. Young men, who had been developed in minor positions, were reserved for members of the family. The result was an inevitable withdrawal of the young men of energy and ideas who were not connected with "the family" as soon as better prospects and opportunities offered elsewhere. Presently came decay and then downfall.

The moral seems to be that while a "family" can be founded anywhere on limited or other property in which able and "quadruple" administrative skill is of secondary importance, a "family" can not be founded upon a commercial enterprise subjected to the keenest competition and calling for the constant exercise of judgment, foresight, wise courage and all those other qualities which nature distributes with a supreme disregard of rank, birth and family pride.

show very little fullness, but the inevitable flare is attained a little above the knee-line by means of three deep ruffles of rich ochre colored guipure lace attached to the foundation under an applied garland of pink roses consisting of an ingenious combination of hand-sewn embroidery and artificial rose petals. The darkest outside petals are beautifully embroidered and shaded with silks, while the stamens and a few inner petals are applied. The foliage is done with a shaded green chenille and buds and stems are also embroidered. The short corsage of crepe de chine is finished with a similar rose garland, thus concealing the line which connects the foundation with the deep unlined yoke of ochre guipure. The tight sleeve of guipure is also unlined and finishes with a long flare over the hand. A pretty cowl, fastened by three rows of black velvet ribbon extending over the bust and sleeves and also over the back and caught with tiny smooth buttons. The high unlined collar of ochre guipure is stiffened at the back by means of small invisible whalebones, and is embellished by attached rows of pearls and diamonds, extending over the chest into a double necklace with an exquisite pendant.

Another gown which also demonstrates the continued use of guipure lace, and recommends some novel combinations, has a trained skirt tight and clinging of ochre colored guipure interlarded with undulating insertions of finely cut jet. The large medallions

While dinner and many other indoor toilettes have sleeves seemingly endless in length, the very latest street toilettes for the warm season show arm-coversings which reach but to the elbow. Light silks, foulards and indies seem particularly adapted to this style, for which evidently the increasing favor for the fichu trimming is responsible.

The fichu, with its scarf ends, will be a graceful feature of the summer styles. Whether the figure be slender or the reverse, the fichu lends itself with equally good effect if only the wearer knows how to dispose the folds thereof to her own advantage. The tall, slender woman may gracefully tie the scarf ends in soft ripples at the waist and then carry the ends to the back after crossing them, and knit them loosely behind. The short woman will draw the folds down very trimly to as much of a point as possible below the waistline, fastening the one small knot with a long, slender pin and allowing the

THE FERRY PROBLEM

It Again Comes Up For Discussion and to Worry the Aldermen.

STATE OF INDECISION

Council Committee Undecided Whether to Let Contract Or Purchase Ferry.

The season for Park Point ferry discussion is now open. In fact it is doubtful if it ever closed, as it will close, but within the next week the renewal of navigation, and the increase of spring traffic, has demonstrated that the present service is dangerous and inadequate. Petitions have commenced to drift into the city hall for a steam service. At present this comes from the regular residents of Park Point, but by the first of May the population will be increased by several hundred transient or summer residents.

The situation at present is very unsettled. The committee of the council having the ferry in charge appears to be divided between purchasing a ferry boat outright and having the work done by contract, the same as last year.

There is some likelihood that the city will buy a boat last season the Park Point ferry cost the city $6784.92, and it is argued that a suitable boat could be purchased for $2000 or $3000, which would in the end be a saving to the city. Last year there was considerable discussion in the council as to the right of the city to own a ferry. There was no provision in state laws or the old charter under which the city could operate a free ferry, but the new charter provides the authority to purchase a ferry and to maintain and operate the same.

It has been suggested by Chief Black and others that the city could build a fire tug, which would also be suitable for ferry purposes. A fire tug, however, would cost considerable money, and could not be completed for several months. The demand for a steam ferry service to Park Point is immediate.

The council committee on the ferry proposition has also discussed the fire tug proposition, and it is said that a number of the aldermen are strongly in favor of rejecting the old plan of having Duluth and Superior build and operate a fire tug in conjunction. The boat would be stationed either at the end of the docks or Comor's Point, which would give both cities equal service. On the Duluth side the boat would have a long run to the West Duluth sawmills, while an equally long run would be necessary on the Superior side to reach a fire at Allouez and Old Superior. In the matter of coal docks, Superior would be benefited by a shorter run than the Duluth side.

Several of the aldermen are strongly in favor of the scheme, but have not as yet conferred with the Superior authorities. Each city has a share in building and operating the fire tug, and it is claimed that under such an arrangement one of the most powerful fire tugs on the lakes would be maintained.

CANT INTERVENE.

Judge Cant Holds Populist Committee Trouble Is Within Court's Jurisdiction.

Judge Cant yesterday decided the demurrer to the complaint in the Populist injunction suit, giving the old committee the decision. It does not involve the merits of the case, but merely the question whether the court had jurisdiction. The matter came before him last Saturday on an order for the new committee to post notice why they should not be enjoined from acting as members of the Populist committee.

Judge Moor, who appeared for the reorganized committee, put in a demurrer to the complaint alleging that it did not set up the facts sufficient to constitute a cause of action, and that the court had no jurisdiction. He contended that it was merely a family fight and that the court had no right to interfere. Judge Cant overruled the demurrer. He sets aside that part of the restraining order heretofore issued which forbids the new committee to post notices of the primary elections to be held April 27, and the rest of the restraining order stands. The defendants have leave to further show cause, by May 5, to which time the hearing is postponed. Why they should not be enjoined from acting as members of the Populist committee.

In his memorandum Judge Cant says that the order restraining the new committee from posting notices for the county convention was varied for the reason that even though the defendants may be usurpers, the continuance of the order relating to the calling of the county convention would not preserve the rights of the old committee, and there was not time for that body to fulfill its duties in calling such a convention. As to the principle of usurpation of the rights of the plaintiffs, Judge Cant expresses very strongly the opinion that it is wholly unwarranted and says:

"If with the rights of the plaintiff and the total lack of authority on the part of the defendants under the rules and usages of that party being admitted, the court cannot interfere, then every party stands in peril of having the ordinary course of its proceedings interfered with by any number of self-constituted committees usurping the authority of the regular organization and calling irregular and perhaps numerous party conventions to the inevitable confusion and demoralization of property constituted party organizations, and the people generally who desire to participate in their work. As against such threatened action the restraining power of the court, if properly invoked, should not be withheld."

AMUSEMENTS.

"DARKEST RUSSIA." Tomorrow evening "Darkest Russia" will be produced at the Lyceum. The story is one that appeals to all classes and manners of those who seek their relaxation within the glare of the footlights, from the ever eager gallery boy with his whistle and cat call, to those who occupy the higher-priced seats below. It is a play of dramatic scene merging into comedy, thence into love affair and on to highly wrought up situations in the most natural way, ending for effect, no lagging in "specialty."

FIGHT AT DE WETS

Chernside and Rundle's Column Engages the Boers at Long Range.

BRITISH HOLD HILLS

While Boers Were Strongly Entrenched—Methuen Retires to Boshof.

Bloemfontein, Friday, April 20.—Continuing their march on Friday, Gen. Chernside and Rundle came into contact with the Boers near De Wets Dorp at noon. The fighting continued until dark and was principally carried on by the artillery, which temporarily silenced two of the Boers' guns.

The British command the hills for miles around the Boers, who are prepared to hold strong positions, but are probably retreating.

The casualties on the British side were slight and most of them occurred among the yeomanry. The firing was at long range. None of the British troops were killed.

Boshof, Orange Free State, April 21.—At midday yesterday, Gen. Methuen's field force at Swartzkopsfontein was ordered to retreat to Boshof. Its only extended force at Swartzkopsfontein was a column of 2000 Boers, with two guns and a pom-pom, suddenly appeared in the vicinity and opened a very heavy fire. The British, however, held them in check until the column reached a point of safety, when they retired. The British had several casualties.

The Boers fought determinedly and must have suffered considerably, as they could not advance to within 300 yards of the hill, whence a concealed detachment of the British opened a heavy fusillade on them.

Government's Policy Relative to the Generals Who Blundered.

London, April 21, 4:30 a. m.—The government's reason for publishing Lord Roberts' Spion Kop dispatch was explained last evening at Hull by Walter Hume Long, president of the board of agriculture, who said that the country was entitled to receive the information the government could give.

Mr. Long, "that having published the dispatch, it is better to let the country know the truth than to keep it hidden from the public," he said. "The government is not responsible for the blunders of the generals, but it is responsible for the policy it follows in the future."

Mr. Long said that the government was not responsible for the blunders of the generals, but it is responsible for the policy it follows in the future.

THE CARNEGIE PUBLIC LIBRARY.

The Herald takes pleasure in presenting the above picture of the Carnegie Public Library building, for the erection of which Andrew Carnegie, the well-known iron and steel king and noted philanthropist, generously donated $50,000. The building will have two stories and a basement, with a frontage of 100 feet on Second street and a depth of fifty feet on Second avenue west, exclusive of the stack room in the rear center. It will be built of Portage Entry stone, the same as the board of trade building, or of this stone and brick combined, and will be of strictly fireproof construction throughout.

GATES IS CROWING

He Considers Himself Vindicated By Steel and Wire Directors' Action.

MILLS STAY CLOSED

He Says They Will Not Open In the Immediate Future.

New York, April 21.—Referring to the action taken by the directors of the American Wire and Steel company at the special meeting, John W. Gates, according to the Herald, said:

"Well, you see I was right. The directors saw it too, and every one of them voted that I was right. The vote of the directors was unanimous—a vindication I am proud of. What the directors admit now, by their action in authorizing the reduction in prices, they will also admit within a fortnight."

"I told the truth in Wall street and they thought I was lying. I said the business had reached its height and was going back and Wall street attacked me in every way. Wall street is not used to hearing the truth. That's what fooled them, but you will see the other steel people falling in line, and mark my word, it won't be long, either before everything I have said will be corroborated by actual developments."

"With this cut in the price of products, the mills closed down the other day will be reopened soon, will they?"

"No," replied Mr. Gates. "This will have no immediate effect on the mills. I can say that the mills will open up, but not in the immediate future anyway."

A friend who has been close to Mr. Gates said afterward that he doubted if the steel mills would start up before September.

An attempt was made again to have Mr. Gates commit himself on this point, but he positively refused.

TO AID CATHOLIC CHURCHES.

Washington, April 21.—Gen. Joseph Wheeler, in a letter to Miss Francis Cheever, a prominent Catholic of this city, has set on foot a movement to aid the poor churches of the Philippine and Ladrones islands. In this letter Gen. Wheeler says:

"During my recent visit to the Philippines and Ladrones I was much impressed with the great devotion of the women, and it occurred to me that it would be a graceful thing for the Catholic women of our country to show their appreciation of the piety of their sisters of the east in some substantial way."

"While on the island of Guam, where there are six churches, I inquired what would be the most acceptable present, and was informed that the churches, which are very similar to our small country churches, need stations. The Miss Wheelan is associated with Mrs. Thomas F. Ryan, of New York, in the work for poor churches of the United States of the Tabernacle society, the object of which is to furnish necessary articles for churches which are too poor to procure them. Their work has been chiefly with the Indian missions."

"FRISCO FAILURE.—The California Packing company, of which E. J. Cole is president, has made an assignment to Judge Newman, of the firm of S. J. Newman & Co., for the benefit of creditors. The call says that claims aggregating $100,000 are out against Cole, who claims that his assets will reach $100,000. It is the largest of its kind in this city."

"NEW SWIMMING RECORD.—San Francisco, April 21.—Sydney Cavill has lowered the American swimming record of 1:07.25 for 100 yards, made by D. B. Hays, in 1:07.25, which is over a half minute faster than the American record. Both trials were credibly timed and measured at the Olympic club."

DEWEY IS HALTING

He Cannot Decide When to Issue His Political Statement.

WILL PROBABLY WAIT

Thinks Matters Are Going Well Enough at Present Without It.

New York, April 21.—A special dispatch to the Herald from Washington says:

Admiral Dewey is hesitating about issuing his political statement. Men close to the admiral are urging him to speak, and to speak promptly, while others are impressing upon him the value of their rule "silence is golden."

Admiral Dewey is inclined to regard this with favor and believes this is not the time for him to talk. His mail and his callers assure him that his candidacy is progressing favorably. What is there for him to gain, he asks himself, by issuing a statement?

Admiral Dewey thinks the time to act is when an emergency arises. He is closely watching political developments in the several states. His friends are keeping him advised of the situation and are actively trying to break the Bryan forces in his behalf.

The admiral is particularly interested in Georgia and Texas. If the delegates in those states can be seen to Kansas City without instructions or with instructions to vote for the admiral, the latter believes the Bryan South will be transformed into the Dewey South.

SULTAN CORDIAL

He Seems to Have No Hard Feelings Over Being Dunned.

Constantinople, April 21.—Mr. Lloyd C. Griscom, United States chargé d'affaires, today had a long private audience with the sultan, who was very cordial. Such an audience with the American chargé d'affaires is unprecedented, and is therefore considered important in the present circumstances.

The United States legation is without information as to the state of internment question at Washington, while the port of Constantinople is said to have resulted over this question.

PLAQUE IN MANILLA.

Many Cases Found in the Quilapo Market District.

Manilla, April 21.—The sudden deaths of Filipino and Chinamen in Quilapo market have led to an investigation showing that fifteen cases of the plague, fourteen of which were fatal, have occurred within a week. The market is located in the center of the city, in black, rotten wooden buildings, and is a place where the poor, with their families, huddled together in great filth. Some of the victims were stricken and died within an hour. There have been several deaths in other sections of the city recently, which have been traced to infection from the market. After all the market people had gathered together today, the health officers threw dynamite into the buildings and will keep the inmates quarantined there for a fortnight. They will then burn the market. The total number of plague deaths are 15 Chinamen and sixty-six Filipinos. The plague elsewhere has been suppressed. Not one infected person has been seen since the market was burned.

Col. Hardin and Maj. Case, with a battalion of the Twenty-ninth Infantry, have sailed for the islands of Marinduque and Mindanao, and a supporter of the Americans, accompanies the expedition to try to convince the inhabitants of the wisdom of surrendering.

"BURLINGAR SHOT.—McCombs, Ohio, April 21.—Marshall Porter shot and probably fatally wounded a burglar who was in the act of robbing the McCombsville National bank last night. There is no clue to the robber's identity."

"HEINRICH VOGL DEAD.—Munich, April 21.—Heinrich Vogl, the opera singer, is dead of apoplexy."

SMITH IS WILLING

Postmaster General Would Accept the Nomination For Vice President.

THE HEPBURN BILL

For Building the Nicaragua Canal Is Certain to Be Defeated.

From The Herald

Washington Bureau.

Washington, April 21.—(Special to The Herald.)—I have just had a long talk with Postmaster General Smith about the solution of the Republican vice presidential candidacy. He declares he would accept it if the nomination were unanimously tendered him, but he cannot see how the choice of a candidate from Pennsylvania would be of assistance to President McKinley this fall. He believes the candidate should be chosen from the East, Middle or far Western states. He has no choice, but thinks the delegates to the Philadelphia convention will make a wise selection. Today it appears that, if the candidate comes from the East, it will be Governor Roosevelt. In the Middle or far Western states he does not at this time care to predict the winner.

The assertion is made by congressmen opposed to the Hepburn Nicaragua canal bill today that the measure cannot pass the house this session. The amendments made to it recently will meet with so much opposition that it will fail if a direct vote is had upon it at the time set for a vote, early in May. Should it finally go through the house, however, it will be blocked in the senate. There is no doubt upon this point. The measure is, therefore, certain to go over until the winter session, and may then fail in one house or the other. It is safe to say that the bill will be sidetracked until the last session of this congress, if successful then.

Arthur McBride has been appointed postmaster at Walker, Cass county, vice Thomas J. Nary, resigned.

An original pension of $6 per month has been granted to Madison Young, of Long Prairie, Todd county.

Joseph Bailey has practically been decided upon as the successor of Senator Chittenden of Vermont. The former Democratic minority leader of the house has surprised both his enemies and his friends by the brilliant and successful campaign he has conducted in Texas in behalf of his own candidacy for the United States senate.

Section 2—That all franchises, privileges or concessions mentioned in section 22 of said act shall be approved by the president of the United States, and no such franchise, privilege or concession shall be operative until it shall have been so approved.

Section 3—That all charters of private corporations, shall provide that the same shall be subject to amendment, alteration or repeal, shall forbid the issue of stock or bonds, except in exchange for actual cash or property at a fair valuation, equal in amount to the par value of the stocks or bonds issued; shall forbid the declaring of stock or bond dividends, and in the case of public service corporations shall provide for the effective regulation of the charges thereof, and for the purchase or taking, by the public authorities of their property at a fair valuation.

Section 4—No corporation shall be authorized to conduct the business of buying and selling real estate or issuing mortgages, or of engaging in agriculture, or permitted to hold or own real estate except such as may be reasonably necessary to enable it to carry out the purposes for which it is created. The meeting today was a special one, attracted unusual interest because of Chairman Cooper's purpose to urge the franchise restrictions. Thirteen members attended, viz., Cooper, Cannon, Hitt, Payne, Hepburn, Lord, Tawney, Moody, Crumpacker, Jones of Virginia, Madley, Williams of Mississippi and Carmack.

CHANCELLOR MCGILL DEAD.

New Jersey Jurist and Statesman Killed By Overwork.

New York, April 21.—Chancellor Alexander T. McGill died today at his residence in Jersey City. He has been ill for about a year, suffering from general breakdown caused by overwork. A short time ago he began to fail rapidly, and had arranged to resign the chancellorship on June 1.

Chancellor McGill was born in Pittsburg in 1843, and resided in New Jersey from the time he was 11 years old. The first official position held by him was that of city counsel for Bayonne, in 1874-75. Subsequently he represented Hudson county in the house of assembly. He served one term as prosecutor of the pleas of Hudson county, and was later appointed law judge, which office he held when he was appointed chancellor in 1887.

He was the Democratic candidate for governor in 1895, but was defeated by John W. Griggs. His term of office would have expired on May 1, 1901.

"AFTER FIGARO EDITOR.—Dublin, April 21.—At a police court today, Miss Maude Gonne secured a summons for malicious libel against Mr. Colles, editor of the Irish Figaro, for publishing a statement that she was a pen-copier to the government and the government spy. The hearing was fixed for April 26.

The list of Democratic candidates for the vice presidential nomination is continually growing, and it is not yet known the Republican aspirants will be overshadowed by the alleged candidates who desire to make the quality of Col. Bryan this year. The present list, as well as it can be recalled, is something like this: Governor Roosevelt of the navy, ex-congressman Charles A. Towne of Minnesota, Representative William Sulzer, Representative Cummings and C. F. Belmont, of New

This is the list of candidates that have been chosen for the second place on the Democratic ticket, but at this time it does not seem possible for the wisest men in the party to forecast the successful candidate.

Consul General Holloway writes from St. Petersburg that the Russian minister of war, desiring of purchasing a freight automobile to be propelled by either steam or kerosene, and proposes that if any manufacturer will ship two such vehicles, one for steam and the other for kerosene, to St. Petersburg, the freight and duty on both purchases, the one best suited for its purpose, and return the other. The machines are to be in St. Petersburg by June 1, 1900. Manufacturers will please send catalogues, giving weight, inside dimensions, price, rapidly of movement and other data to Col. N. A. Blodoff, chief staff, ministry of war, St. Petersburg, Russia. Mr. Holloway suggests that the possibility for large orders to supply the Russian army, which is scattered over an area more than twice the size of the United States, with automobile weapons, is worthy of attention.

Consul General Haywood transmits from Honolulu a report in regard to the commerce of Hawaii in 1899, in which he states that the imports from the different countries amounted to $19,659,062 and the exports to $22,625,711. The increase this last year has been very great and Hawaii is becoming quite important. A report from Mr. Sewall, United States consul at Honolulu, endorses a clipping from a local paper which says, in part:

"During the month of December, 1899, the largest amount of imports ever received for one month was received. Sixteen foreign and thirteen United States sailing vessels arrived in port with cargoes. This does not include the large number of United States transports that entered the harbor bringing stock and quartermasters' supplies. There were also forty general cargoes, amounting to a total of 45,000 tons; eleven cargoes of coal, the total being 25,841 tons, and thirteen vessels brought lumber with a total of 9,198,320 feet. The acquisition of these islands by the United States has given an impetus to Honolulu that has attracted the commercial interest of the world. The carrying and shipping to this port has grown with such rapidity that the increase of trade in December, 1899, compared with December a year ago, is something phenomenal, in evidence of the prosperity of the port, a walk along the wharves will show every available dock and berth occupied by vessels unloading cargoes of every description, and a large number anchored in the stream compelled to wait for days before being able to discharge on account of the small accommodations."

The revenue from import duties in 1899, adds Mr. Sewall, was $100,000 in excess of that of 1898.

Acting Consul Monaghan recently sent the following translation of a letter received by him from Eugene Alexander, a shoe dealer of St. Petersburg, Salskanski Prospect No. 128, relative to the outlook for American boots and shoes in that empire:

"In a recent issue of the Ledenarskaya (Frankfurt) there is a note stating that you gave it as your opinion before the Russian chamber of commerce that there could be a sale for American shoes in Germany, Russia, Sweden, etc., if the goods were properly introduced to the people. Being an expert and thoroughly acquainted with Russian conditions, I have to offer you my experience, especially as regards the Russian shoe market. There is very little interest. The reasons are as follows: The Russian demands a light foot above everything and can get it in domestic makes. The German shoe manufacturer

FOREIGN MISSIONS

Session of the Ecumenical Conference Opens at New York.

SPEECH BY HARRISON

Ex-President Was the Presiding Officer and Made an Address.

New York, April 21.—With an ex-President of the United States, Benjamin Harrison, to lead them welcome, there are gathered today, in Carnegie hall, more than 2000 missionaries from almost every quarter of the globe. For ten years preparations have been under way for this meeting, known as the ecumenical conference of foreign missions. It is the third of its kind ever held. Every branch of the Christian church is represented except the Roman Catholic, the Greek and that branch of the Anglican church, known as the Society for the Propagation of the Gospel.

The foreign missionary work of the world is conducted by seven great societies. They are the Christian Missionary Society, which represents the evangelistic party in the Church of England, and also as far as the other side of the world is concerned, the Society for the Propagation of the Gospel, representing the Catholic party in the Church of England, and which declined to attend the conference; the London Missionary Society of the Congregational church; the American Board of Foreign Missions; the Methodist Episcopal church; the American Baptist Missionary Union.

The sessions of the conference will last until May 1, not including Sundays. On Sundays the delegates will be assigned to churches in the five city boroughs and suburban towns to make addresses and preach sermons in regard to their work.

The one great object of the gathering of workers from all corners of the earth is to look back over the century looking and survey and prospect the work of the future.

The great problem now is how to get money and then put it to the best use. It is said, 92 cents of every dollar given to the "Christian Union" is desired to convert, but 8 cents of every dollar given to the "Christian Union" is desired to convert, but 8 cents of every dollar given to the "Christian Union" is desired to convert.

The great hall was completely filled when ex-President Harrison began his address of welcome. On the platform were the delegates from all the world, and the delegates were many workers from all the world.

Ex-President Harrison was given a great ovation. He said that he felt it a great honor to call to the attention of the delegates to the fact that the world is now a better place than it was when he was president.

man's devious max alleviate, but they cannot cure this tendency to division and strife and substitute a drift of peace and unity. Christ in the heart and His gospel of love and ministry in all the activities of life is the only cure.

The highest conception that has ever entered the mind of man is that of the universal brotherhood. It was not, indeed, revealed. The natural man lives to be ministered unto—he lays his hands upon others. He buys slaves that they may fan him to sleep, bring him the dewed cup of wine, and die in the arms for his sport. Into such a world there came a King, not to be ministered unto but to minister. The rough winds fanned his sleep; He drank of the mountain brook, and made not the water wine for Himself; would not use His power to stay His own hunger; but gave His compassion to the multitude. He called them to be taught with a great price no more servants but friends. He entered the bloody arena alone, and dying broke all chains and brought life and immortality to light. Here is the perfect altruism; here the true sublimity of man. Ornaments of gold and gems, silken robes, houses, lands, and slaves—these are the things that men seek. Where a brotherhood so wide and perfect is made, no more the King credits the smallest service. His value when tribute is brought into His treasury. No coin of love is base or small to Him. The worth of His life is in His crown. Life is sweetened, the poor man becomes a prince. Where a man found a philosophy of life so sweet and strong, he would not count death so comforting.

The men like Paul who have gone to heathen lands with the message, we seek not yours but your, have been hindered by those who coming after have reduced the message. Rum and other corrupting agencies come in with their material civilization, and the feeble races wither before the influence of the more powerful.

The enemies of foreign missions have spoken truthfully of the slowness of the work and the lack of adequate resources. We have too exclusively concentrated our efforts on the one side of the world with God a thousand years in the future. The other side of that truth—one day with Him is as a thousand years. God has not set a uniform pace for Himself in the work of bringing in the kingdom of His messiah. He will hasten it in His day. The strife of His church shall be so quickened that the world will be a new world.

He will not answer the demand to show a course of action in His great cathedral of the world. He will not show a course of action to men who have not shown a course of action to Him. He will not show a course of action to men who have not shown a course of action to Him. He will not show a course of action to men who have not shown a course of action to Him.

Duluth Real Estate is a Good Thing to Own.

REALTY MARKET

Rather Active This Week
Although Completed Deals Are Not Many.

DEMAND FOR HOUSES

It Is Large and Many of the Smaller Kind Are Changing Hands.

Real estate has been active during the past week, but few deals reached the stage where the deeds go on record. Some idea of the demand for cottages and small detached houses may be gained from the fact that the few now building can be sold readily at a liberal margin of profit before the buildings are completed. There is a great demand for higher-priced homes, but a few bargains are being picked up in this line which will net the buyers a good profit if the present activity continues. The demand for small homes will naturally cause activity in lots and acres, and the demand is already beginning to be felt.

It is reported that a deal is hanging fire for a new office block on Superior street, which, if built, will be a thing of aesthetic improvement and joy to a certain class of business and professional men at present scattered about the town and unable to obtain suitable offices on account of the recent tremendous increase in rents in the most desirable blocks. It is said that negotiations have progressed to the extent of having the matter of plans and specifications placed in the hands of the architect, and much of the success of the deal depends on the architect's estimate.

There is a report going around in realty circles that the assessed valuations of property all over the city will be raised this year. Investigation, however, fails to bring up anything definite regarding the increase, except that about the city hall the necessity of furnishing the city with more revenue in the next few years is apparent, and it would not be surprising if this would be the last year in the history of Duluth that the property valuation will be as low as $24,000,000.

Was Ablaze With Diamonds

A Second Barney Barnato Strikes Niagara Falls and Endeavors to Pawn a Rich Collection of Costly Gems.

Bankers All Refused

Harcourt called on the Simmons-Stewarts and asked about the prospects of securing a loan, but received no encouragement. He then called on a number of other affluent men with whom he tried to deal.

He said he was aware that diamonds had appreciated in value on account of the cutting off of the supply of them by the transvaal, but that he wanted to realize quickly on the gems, and therefore made a bargain with them.

He then offered to sell the diamonds.

Harcourt left Niagara Falls for Buffalo, N. Y., and called on a number of his friends. Upon paying his bill at the hotel, he said he would return in a day or two, but he has not been seen since.

Over a week ago, just before the appointment of the grand jury, it was claimed that he called upon several persons in Buffalo and made a similar proposition, but so far no learned of his business.

Servant Problem?

System Adopted by Her In a Stir Among House-Practical Opinions.

For securing mutual protection, justice and fair dealing, the servant and his mistress are expected and practiced by the great mass of housewives. Household employees have to be treated with kindness and to converse with fellow workers. They have not the duty of an organized body. The industrial isolation of the domestic is the cause of the servant problem and its

But just at the time when everything looked brightest came the hard crash of the panic of 1873, which was later. A financial panic nipped the tender blossom in the bud and the advance of civilization was arrested. The Jay Cooke failure and the panic of 1873 drew Duluth in the trail of disaster. Operations on the approaching line of the Northern Pacific were suspended indefinitely. The city was left with a population consisting immediately, and the outlook began. The sun of promise set over Duluth, and the city was left in a gloomy faint haze. Many times feared that it might never rise again. Every outlandish name bore citizens of foreign extraction, and the city was mostly empty. Houses were robbed of their occupants and stood vacant. Store fronts were boarded up and the city lay in ruin with rats as their only tenants. Meantime, in the days when every man was a farmer, the city was made headless up with a bonded debt that became in the times of adversity a crushing weight. The city of 10,000 people were issued to help along the coming of the Lake Superior & Mississippi, and the city was left with $100,000 were issued for the construction of the dyke across the bay, and had the money for the purpose. The city of Duluth, Lake Superior it could hardly have been more thoroughly thrown away. A man had died and the city was left through Minnesota Point, and this was a much better investment. The same man had died and the city was left through a blast furnace. With population and property values decreasing day by day, the city was left with a heavy burden to bear. Eventually, as the story shows, it set too hard to bear at all, and the city was left with a heavy load. City order got into very low, and deed. There was little or no money in the treasury, so city officers and employees were paid in scrip, and a swamp that then stood between the settlement on the point and the settlement on the river was filled with great buildings now stand was filled in, and the contractors were paid for their work in scrip. When the city was one time those got to be worth about 50 cents on the dollar, so that a city officer could take a scrip note and was able to buy goods to the amount of $15 with which to support his family. The scrip was then sold at a premium on to the climax in 1877. In 1875 the assessed valuation of the city of Duluth was $2,200,000, and in 1876, $575,790 and the papers of those days record a loud outcry on the part of the city fathers that the assessed value of the property more than its actual cash value. The population of the city was 1,000 in 1866, 2,000 in 1870 and in 1876 in fact, just before the second growth began, there were in the city 10,000 people, and the population in 1880 was 20,000 souls. In 1876 a financial statement of the city of Duluth showed against the treasury a balance of $100,000, a debt of $410,114.63, of which something over $360,000 was bonded debt and included $100,000 of city bonds. St. Louis owed $194,184, and as a part of that county Duluth was responsible for half the debt. The real valuation of the city of Duluth at that time was $1,000,000, and the city was as a matter of fact about equal, and the city fathers were not able to pay for any corporation when it is known.

Of course the interest on the bonds was not met, it could not be met. It is a hard thing to say, but the men of the city of Duluth in those days that the men who undertook it were heroes, and the city fathers were not able to pay the debt. The city could not meet anything. There were notes and judgments that the city fathers could not pay, and it was impossible to meet them as it was the mayor, John Drew, resigned, and might be held in any way by the bondholders. As the amendment to the charter provided that the mayor should be a freeholder, and as the same amendment provided that no officer could receive more than $1,000 a year, it was held that the expense in keeping up the government of the circular fringe of city. It was kept in mind that the mayor was elected for a year, and later a mayor was elected for the form of the thing, but he never qualified and the condition never was met. An ordinance was made and A. M. Miller was made president of the village council. The law provided that the council should have jurisdiction over all the territory until the village election was held, and after one year the council should have jurisdiction over the city on all bonds issued by the city prior to the passage of the act. The council had jurisdiction to raise up and cancel bonds of the city to the amount of $218,000. This was done, and the council proposed the law authorizing the village to issue bonds to the amount of $100,000 for the purpose of paying the bonds of the city at the rate of 25 cents on the dollar. This was done by the judge of the district court, and the bonds were issued to the bondholders who turned in their city bonds village bonds to the judge of the district court and surrendered. The law also provided that as more and more of the bonds of the city were paid off, the fringe of the city were to be carved out and added to the village, and this was done until the village had taken all of the old city of Duluth was contained within the limits of the Village.

by only $100,000, of such bonds were to be issued, the legislature of 1855 passed another special law authorizing $150,000 as the original amount was not enough. This was because some of the bondholders held out so long that the reorganization of the village, and they had to be bought off at a larger percentage than the others. Their share of the last moment some of them compelled the village to add the difference to the bonds of the other bondholders, so that while 25 per cent of the city's debt would have been only about $75,000, it actually was up to $150,000. Bonds were issued to the amount of $128,250, and they still outstanding and they due in 1860, the village being paying the interest and principal of these bonds in the hands of St. Louis county, and the principal of the bonds now $29,365.23. The bonds draw 6 per cent interest, and the village has to pay the interest necessary to state, have been kept in full.

When the debt was cared for and worry over the financial affairs of the city finished, the process did not immediately stop. The village was so poor that property values recovered somewhat with this awful load of debt resting on them. The village was so debilitated easier under the village government than they had under the last one, that the village was able to get matters continued pretty blue until 1858, when the long lane reached its turning.

When the village was so poor, turning out lumber, people began to move into Duluth instead of out and the village was so poor that in 1881 gave the village a new municipal government. Though still a village, they were now a city government with a mayor and other officers pertaining to a city government, by act of congress.

They said that the women works as upstairs girls in families, and they are not paid as much as they should. They said that the petty tyranny exists in the household, and that the atmosphere is a stagnation existing between the two classes mutually dependent upon each other. They said that the mistress should not be mistaken. In the general opinion, the mistress should be more dominant, that is, the right of the mistress should be absolute. They said that the mistress should teach the servants to be more home-like that there are rights before the mistress, and that the mistress should be more operation of mistress and maid is needed. A woman who by earnest application has become a housekeeper remarked: "In the average home, the mistress is not the greatest master in the development of help. The most cheerful and obedient servant is the one who is not a convenience for personal convenience, vicarious pleasure, or the selfishness of the mistress. They are not working a part of, if not entire, suppression of the servant's individuality. The long hours of work are conditions which are not to be taken in the direction of improvement for the mistress, her responsibility and obligation. And also the maid should be more of a servant, and not a mistress. The servant that which she herself does not like to do, she should not make her make a poor servant worse, and too frequently the mistress is not a mistress, but a servant. The mistress, at times, is a servant, and the servant, at times, is a mistress."

Gentlemen—I suffered from Rheumatism and Kidney Trouble for years. My condition grew gradually worse, in spite of my efforts to improve myself by every kind of treatment. I consulted different physicians, but none of them could cure me. My case seemed to be hopeless. My physician advised me to try Dodds' Kidney Pills. I used them and now I am able to say that I am cured. My eyesight is restored, the Rheumatism has disappeared, and my kidneys appear to be in as good and healthy condition as before I was attacked with this disease. I am as well every way as I ever was.

FIGHTING HIS WAY

Rundle Finds Every Step of the Wepener Road Contested.

SUFFERS A REVERSE

The British Left Wing Is Driven Back at Thaba Nchu.

London, April 23.—Gen. Rundle is apparently advancing slowly toward Wepener, every step being closely contested by the Boers. From the rebel side there is a good deal of interesting news today. A Thaba Nchu dispatch, dated Friday, April 20, reports the arrival there of Commandants De Wet and Villiers and an attack upon 3000 British under Gen. Gatacre. The latter, of course, is a misstatement, as it is probable that Gen. Rundle is meant. The British, it is added, occupied some kopjes, but their left wing was driven back. Two Boer losses were killed and five wounded.

From Brandfort comes the news that, Saturday, April 21, a British patrol of ten men ventured near that place and suffered the loss of one man killed and two men captured, including a Free Stater who was leading the party.

A Pretoria dispatch, April 21, says the latest official news was that fighting was proceeding within half an hour's ride of De Wets Dorp, with no results.

The Transvaal government, it is added, has asked Lord Roberts to be allowed to send a clergyman to St. Helena, and also a neutral consul to watch the interests of the prisoners in the same manner as Adelsberg Hauptmann guards the interests of the British in Pretoria.

A proclamation has been issued prohibiting the working of the mines on Sundays, and inflicting punishment on managers paying over 41 a month to the miners.

From Ladysmith today comes a dispatch saying all is quiet and that the Boer guns are silent.

There is nothing further from Bloemfontein to indicate the progress of the preparations of the main advance.

At Cape Town a government contractor, Thomas H. Brown, is reported as harboring three escaped Boer prisoners disguised as clerical men. The prisoners were sent back to Simon Town, whence they had escaped.

MANY OMINOUS RUMORS.
A Flock of Them Are Flying About London.

New York, April 23.—A dispatch to the Tribune from London says: There was last night the usual Sunday medley of ominous rumors and confused conjectures, the theater of war, with a heavy burden of mail correspondence on which incidents of the period of mastery inactivity.

All the reached for twenty-five miles will have to be rebuilt.

at one time the two republics had 10,000 men in the Free State, 100 in the Orange Free State and 1,000 in the districts of the Orange Free State and the Orange Free State.

It is a foregone conclusion that Pretoria will be taken, but the exact date is not known. The Boers are reported to have mounted a strong defense, but the British have been successful in capturing the city.

The Boers are reported as mustering a large force, and are taking the opportunity of the Boers' absence to take the city.

OUTLOOK IS GRAVE

The Floods in the South Are Augmented by Heavy Rains.

ROADS YET BLOCKED

Trains Are Suspended With No Hope of Resumption For Days.

New Orleans, April 23.—One of the heaviest of the rain storms of the season occurred here last night and the city was flooded. Today, in the upper and rear sections of the city, water still covered streets and sidewalks and traffic had to be used to reach street cars.

The city is suffering commercial loss as a result of the Mississippi floods and the crippled condition of four railway lines entering New Orleans. The Illinois Central is operating a partial service, but the Northeastern railway is still completely blocked. Not until Wednesday or Thursday will traffic be resumed.

The carrying away of the Pascagoula bridge has only crippled the Louisville & Nashville, which announced today that all night trains will be suspended. The bridge, which was damaged by the flood, is now being repaired.

Arrangements have been made to ferry passengers, mail and baggage across the bay at Pascagoula. The movement of freight has been stopped.

Jackson, Miss., April 23.—John Horton, a negro, his wife and five children were drowned in Pearl river while trying to escape from the flood. Their cabin had been inundated by the high water and the family was endeavoring to make its escape in a wagon when the vehicle fell through a broken bridge.

Pearl river is now stationary, but the heavy rain last night having caused the water to rise again, the water continues to rise and railway traffic is in a very bad condition.

Mobile, Ala., April 23.—The flood situation around Mobile shows a more desperate condition this morning and the hour the loss is growing greater. The Louisville & Nashville railway, which has been flooded, is now being repaired.

At Cape Town a government contractor, Thomas H. Brown, is reported as harboring three escaped Boer prisoners disguised as clerical men. The prisoners were sent back to Simon Town, whence they had escaped.

RILED THE NEW NAME REPORT

Hard Feeling Because an American Vessel Salutes a Boer Flag.

COMPLAINT ABOUT IT

English Minister Presents Protest at Washington But Gets No Satisfaction.

New York, April 23.—A special to the Journal and Advertiser from Norfolk, Va., says: The big Boer flag which floated from the mainmast of the Danish steamship Polarstjerne (Polar Star) when that ship sailed from her home port March 12, came near causing international complications between this government and Great Britain through the enthusiasm of an American skipper in Norfolk harbor.

Upon the ship's arrival off Old Point Comfort, Capt. Callisen again hoisted the Transvaal flag, and his action caused comment among the masters of a number of British merchantmen anchored off the point.

A mass meeting of a branch of the National Boer Relief Fund association was held in Norfolk on Monday, April 16. Congressman Smith, of Michigan, and George W. Van Sicken, of New York, were among the announced speakers, and they arrived on an Old Dominion steamer.

When Mr. Smith saw Capt. Callisen's vessel with the Boer flag waving, he got the Old Dominion captain, who was also a Boer sympathizer, to run in near the Polar Star, and then the American colors on the American ship were dipped to the standard of the Transvaal on the Danish ship.

One of the British captains saw the compliment and sent a protest to the English ambassador at Washington, who in turn sent it to the state department. The protest was declined to interfere on the grounds that the British flag is not to be hoisted by whatever he desires at his masthead.

Thus a threatened complication because of an American vessel's hoisting of a Danish captain's courtesy to the Boer cause was avoided.

At the mass meeting, Mr. Callisen was called upon to make a speech. The captain moved forward on the platform and made a speech.

His appearance made the hit of the evening, but the immense gathering was too much for him, and after one desperate glance the veteran sailor turned and fled.

Any speech he could have made could not possibly have been heard by the audience.

Those who advocate it say that the United States must undertake to pay a cable of this kind in order that quick communication with Hawaii and other possessions in the far East can be had.

THE ECUMENICAL COUNCIL.
The Business Sessions of the Missionary Conference Begin.

New York, April 23.—The first business session of the Ecumenical conference on foreign missions began simultaneously at 9:30 o'clock today in Carnegie hall and the Central Presbyterian church. Walter H. Sloan, secretary of the inland mission of China, led the devotional exercises in Carnegie hall and the Rev. James Cunningham, D.D., of the Memorial Presbyterian church of Waverly, London, conducted the exercises at the Central Presbyterian church.

At Carnegie hall the Rev. Augustus H. Strong, president of the Ecumenical Theological society, delivered an address on the "Authority and Purpose of Foreign Missions."

Turkey as a Missionary Land," was the theme of an address by the Rev. James L. Barton, D.D., of Boston, foreign secretary of the American Board of Commissioners for Foreign Missions.

Protestant churches have been organized from all the ancient churches, and there are now 120 churches with a total membership of over 12,000, but with more than 50,000 adherents.

Five theological seminaries have been active in preparing for the conference. Theological seminaries from all of these institutions of all grades have been invited to send delegates.

One of the pioneers of creating a Christian literature for the multitudes of the Turkish, is Rev. Elias Riggs, D.D., L.L.D., who joined the mission in 1822.

With a marvelous genius he mastered the language after language, and from his pen came the first translations of the Bible into the Turkish language.

After sixty-eight years of unparalleled literary work, covering almost every department of sacred literature, during which period he has but once visited the homeland, he is today engaged in revising for the second time the Turkish Bible which he originally translated, and in writing Greek and Bulgarian hymns.

Turkey was a land practically destitute of a modern literature three-quarters of a century ago, but today, in spite of government opposition, hardly a home exists in Turkey where a modern Christian book or periodicals have not in some measure cast their elevating influence. The success is not measured by the nearly 50,000 evangelical Christians which are numbered among the Protestants.

REPORT ON CLARK

Findings in the Montana Man's Case Submitted to the Senate.

THE ELECTION VOID

Because of Bribery in the Verdict—Early Action Is Urged.

Senator Chandler, from the senate committee on privileges and elections, today submitted to the senate the report of that committee in the case of Senator Clark of Montana. The report is comparatively brief, covering only about fifteen pages of printed matter. It does not rehearse the testimony, but simply presents the finding of the committee and its reasons for its course. The finding of the committee is stated as follows:

"The finding of the committee is that the election of W. A. Clark of Montana, is null and void, on account of bribery, attempted bribery and corrupt practices by his agents, and of violating the laws of Montana, defining and punishing crimes against the elective franchise.

In view of the finding, the committee report, unanimously recommends the adoption by the senate of the following resolution:

"Resolved, That William A. Clark was not duly and legally elected to a seat in the senate of the United States by the legislature of the state of Montana.

The report concludes with a strong recommendation for a reconsideration of the case, as follows:

"The senate should, as a duty to itself and to the country, demonstrate by its action in this case that seats in the United States senate procured as Senator Clark's have been procured by the deliberate judgment of the senate.

The senate also owes a duty to the people of Montana who, conscious of the bad repute into which the state had fallen by reason of vast expenditures of money in connection with its elections, manifested such a public sentiment that the legislature of 1895 passed a statute which, if obeyed, would have redeemed the state from its bad name.

The committee states that its finding is made in view of certain admitted undisputed facts, with their attendant circumstances appearing in the testimony taken by the committee, and that the committee is of the opinion that the state should take prompt and decisive remedy from the action of the senate upon the report of this committee.

The expenditures in the contest of 1895 as testified to by Senator Clark and Governor Hauser.

2. Quotes the law of 1895 relative to crimes against the elective franchise, which limited in purpose and amount the political expenditures which could be made in any election either by a political committee or a candidate, especially naming the law for advance States senator, who could not give more than $1000 to any one committee in a county, and could not give more than $1000 for his personal expenses in lawful ways specified.

3. Asserts that Senator Clark has been constantly a candidate for office and gives his record in that respect, and notes the organization of a committee in his interest in the summer of 1898 after the consultation with his friends in Butte.

"To this committee," the report says, "he gave unlimited authority to spend money, which he agreed to furnish; an estimate, however, being made that at least $25,000 would be necessary to secure the state convention, and that $75,000 might be needed to secure the state legislature.

In the canvass which ensued the approximate expenditures admitted by the various members of the committee and their assistants were as follows: By Charles W. Clark, $25,000; by McDermott, $25,000; by Steele, $11,000; by Corbett, $3,000; by Whitmore, $2,000; by McDermott, one of his agents; $5000 to Wellcome, his attorney, and $5000 to E. C. Day, a member of the legislature.

"None of the members of his committee or their assistants made the sworn returns required by law, nor did Senator Clark himself make any return.

Sections 6 to 15 deal with the business transactions of Mr. Clark and his representatives with members of the legislature, including the purchase of Representative McLaughlin's property, the tender of $6000 to Representative Woods to raise the mortgage on his ranch, and the subsequent sale of the ranch; the establishment of a bank after the adjournment of the legislature, largely through the efforts of Senator Tierney and Representative Everett and Shively, of Broadwater county; the sale of lots and other property in Jefferson county to a representative of Mr. Clark by Senator Warner; the conduct of Messrs. Gatt, Glegg, Fine, Beasley and Pywater and the present of $5000 to Representative Day after the adjournment of the legislature.

Speaking of the transaction with Woods, the committee says:

"Senator Clark knew Mr. Bickford's attempts to purchase the indebtedness which Woods owned, and the correspondence shows that the object was to secure Mr. Woods for Senator Clark. Bickford testified:

"In pursuance of that letter (the letter of Nov. 21, from one letter) and the invitation which I at that time received, I made arrangements to obtain, for the purpose of using to prevent the indebtedness of Woods, the sum of $10,000 which I had in my hands of Mr. Daly's friends, the sum of $7000 of which to take up that indebtedness."

"On Nov. 12, 1898, Mrs. Woods mortgaged the property of her husband to the Bickford Bank for the sum of $10,000."

"The committee is of the opinion that the election of W. A. Clark of Montana, is null and void, on account of bribery, attempted bribery and corrupt practices by his agents, and of violating the laws of Montana, defining and punishing crimes against the elective franchise.

IN DIRTY CONDITION

Need of Awakening on the Part of General Public Is Apparent.

ALL OVER THE CITY

Streets, Avenues, Alleys and Vacant Lots—People Need Education.

The attention of The Herald is frequently called to the dirty condition of Duluth generally by citizens who feel that there should be a reform in that direction. They say, with much chagrin, that Duluth is one of the dirtiest cities of its size to be found in the country, and that it is a shame, with the untiring season just opening up again, that there has been no improvement, but rather retrogression. There is no doubt that there is truth in all these complaints, even though some of them may be made in a hopeless, pessimistic way. They do not refer to the sanitary condition entirely either, but to that direction the health board is working actively, although there is much still to be done. The complaints are largely against the unsightly and unkempt appearance of things generally. Vacant lots are littered up with ashes, old boxes and more, any old thing that is ready to be thrown out. The streets are filled with paper, rubbish, cart-off chaff, wood, etc. The newspapers have had much to say about the condition of the city, and some little progress has been made in getting it in better shape, although there is still much to be done. The city fathers are making a great effort, and there is less reason, too, for the payment in these cases is not so bad, and can be kept much better shape. One may go up the avenues of the city, and if they watch the gutters they will find almost anything in the line of dirt and cast-off material. At places where building work has been done, where the ground has been leveled, etc., only the weakest sort of an attempt is made to clean up the refuse and debris, and it is allowed to blow away to some other part of the street or lie there and rot. There is a general indifference on the part of the people.

The board of trade is one of the finest buildings in Duluth, and probably no stranger to the city visit that building the year around than any other. Every one of them might well think that the city dumping ground was in the vacant lots opposite the board. Their condition would justify the belief. Then there are vacant lots near the federal building, another of the most prominent corners in town, which are almost as bad. Any number of such places can be cited. One needs only to go around the city with eyes open to see a hundred or a thousand like them.

The almost universal comment on Duluth made by visitors is that it is one of the dirtiest cities in the country. And yet Duluth people hear that constantly and do not wake up.

Duluth is in need of a C. O. Warner. It was he who brought New York to the front as one of the cleanest cities of the country. He organized a street cleaning force that is the superior of any in the land, and was a revelation to all New Yorkers, but he did not stop there. He educated the people and made all New York a part of his cleaning force. The city fathers and the men of the streets. Each child seems to strive to be able to report to his mother that the sidewalk is clean, and not only that, but they were often responsible for the placement of a sidewalk before they were reported, and were able to send word of what they had found with the report, and that it had been revealed through their intervention. The city cannot be brought to a cleanliness by the exercise of municipal authority alone. The people must cooperate.

LAI'D TO REST.

Carl Ziman, Killed in Philippines, Given a Military Funeral.

With fitting words of requiem and military honors, the remains of Carl G. Ziman were laid to rest in Forest Hill cemetery yesterday afternoon. The funeral service was held in the Armory. The eulogy was delivered by Dr. E. S. Long, pastor of the First Methodist church, who paid an eloquent tribute to the life, character and patriotism of the dead soldier. Hundreds of people gathered in the Armory to do reverence to the inanimate clay from which a brave and genial spirit had forever winged its way. The coffin and grave were piled high with beautiful flowers, gifts from faithful friends and former comrades. To show in concrete form the feelings of admiration and sorrow that prompted the funeral, the remains of the deceased were laid to rest in a vault of the cemetery, and the soft, slow notes of "Taps" lights out—were sounded.

The service at the Armory was opened by the City band playing "Nearer My God to Thee." Dr. Long offered up a short invocation and Miss Louise Hall, in a sweetly sympathetic manner sang "Eyes to Thee." In his eulogy Dr. Long briefly outlined the young man's life. Born in Germany 22 years ago, he came to this country at the age of 14 years and resided in Buffalo for a time, coming to Duluth about six years ago. He had enlisted in Company G, Fourteenth Minnesota volunteer infantry, thereby responding to the call of his adopted country. At Camp Ramsey he took sick and was confined in the hospital for three months and was eventually unable to go South with his regiment. When mustered out of the volunteer service, he immediately enlisted in the hospital corps of the Third United States Infantry at Fort Snelling and accompanied the regiment to the Philippines. On Sept. 22 last he was killed near Angeles, about sixty-five miles from Manila, by the insurgents wrecking a train.

Dr. Long said in part: "He was a representative American soldier, and went to the far off island of Luzon at the command of the government and did not think that any man goes very far from the pathway of right when he follows his country's flag. Our dead comrade had nothing to do with expansion or anti-expansion; he was not to reason why, but his to do and die. It is a great thing to have a proper appreciation of law and have learned the importance of rendering sacred obedience to it. This young man gave up his life and the longer I live the more impressed I am with the great truth that, in our country, that should be given a chapter, is the man that in whatever rank of life, does his duty."

The reputation of this young man is that he was kind of heart and of a cheerful nature. When he was in the hospital he was impressed with the kindness of the hospital corps and when he re-enlisted in the service it was in the hospital corps.

After the service the funeral procession headed by the City band, the remains of Carl G. Ziman, and Company G, took part in the ceremony with the funeral procession.

The procession moved east on First street, then south on Third street, and east again to Twelfth avenue, where the funeral service was held.

THEY ARE REVERSED

Supervision Inspector Sloane
Overrules Local Inspectors
In Neilson-Record Case.

HUNT IS REINSTATED

Captain of Neilson Held Blameless For the Sinking of the Record.

Supervising Inspector John D. Sloane has reversed the decision of the local inspectors, Messrs. Monaghan and Chaik, on the Neilson-Record collision, in which one of the members of the tug crew was drowned. The case went up to the supervising inspector on the appeal of Capt. W. J. Hunt of the Neilson, whose license was revoked by the local inspectors for one year beginning Dec. 12, 1899, and the decision restores his license. He is therefore in the list of appointments to the Des Moines fleet this year. The decision wholly exonerates Capt. Hunt, and finds that the accident happened because of the automatic closing of the throttle valve of the tug, allowing her to drop back under the bow of the Neilson. He finds that the Neilson was going at a high rate of speed, as testified by the tug men. The decision is in part as follows:

"After a careful examination of the testimony, I find that Capt. William J. Hunt, of the steamer James D. Neilson, exercised due and proper care and skill in the operation of his vessel, and that the accident happened because of the automatic closing of the throttle valve of the tug, allowing her to drop back under the bow of the Neilson. He finds that the Neilson was going at a high rate of speed, as testified by the tug men. The decision is in part as follows:

Health Board Will Prosecute For Expectoration In Street Cars.

IT SPREADS DISEASE

Police Department Resurrects Dead Letter Ordinances and Will Enforce Them.

The board of health has decided that the deposit of sputum in street cars is a public nuisance, and source of a public nuisance, and from now on the spitting on any floor in any street car is prohibited.

The board will also make an effort to resurrect an old ordinance from the dust-laden recesses of the city statutes which will make violation of the order subject to a fine not to exceed $50 for every offense, or be imprisoned for thirty days.

Dr. Robinson this morning said that he would use every effort to have the ordinance brought to light again and if necessary properly amended and passed through the council. The board of health has given much time lately to the consideration of infectious diseases, and after much research has come to the conclusion that saliva on a street car floor is one of the most potent agencies of germ incubation. Smallpox, diphtheria, scarlet fever, typhoid fever, and other diseases, particularly those which are spread by the use of the car, are used for purposes usually assigned to the use of the car.

Minneapolis has an anti-spitting-in-street-car ordinance, and as there is no such ordinance in this city at present, the health authorities are rigidly enforcing the ordinance.

In connection with dead-letter ordinances, the police department is endeavoring to inject a little life into several antiquated laws which have been on the books for many years.

One of the laws which has been on the books for many years, and which has been enforced with little success, is the ordinance which prohibits the use of a vehicle on a street car. This ordinance is now being enforced with much more vigor than in the past.

Another section of this ordinance provides that it shall be unlawful to ride a bicycle without a bell, whistle or other alarm, and shall be the duty of any person riding a bicycle to sound an alarm when approaching within fifty feet of a pedestrian.

At the bottom of the little purple cards handed the advertiser for the purpose of circulating a memorandum which says: "Any officer failing to enforce the above regulations, especially with regard to the bicycle, will be given a chance to come to the office and explain."

One of the ordinances of the police expect to revive has been on the books for a short time, and it has already found a snug berth in the "dead letter" and obsolete." It relates to driving and riding on the right side of the street. All teams and bicycles are commanded to keep to the right except when passing another team or vehicle, at which time always take the left of the vehicle to be passed.

A PEACEFUL SABBATH.

Police Court Indicates That Public Was Very Quiet.

Yesterday was by long odds the most restful, peaceful and uneventful Sabbath day the police department has had for some time. It is reported that no arrests were made, and that no cases were brought before the court.

Two active and one disciplinary members of the International Anti-Tobacco society, arrested Saturday, were in the case of this morning's passing show. The actives were Dan Shean and Ed Newman, and each have joined the knickerbockers on the hillside. The disciplinary member was Frank Morris, and his case was recommended to the police for mercy.

A Painting at the Salon.

This is the fourth picture that Mr. Erickson has exhibited in Paris, and he considers it his best work.

RUNDLE IS STOPPED

Boers Have Brought Wepener
Relief Force to a Stand.

GRAVE FOR BRITISH

The Boer Force at Thaba
Nchu Presents a Hard Problem.

London, April 24.—All attention is centered on the interesting though complicated situation in the southeastern portion of the Orange Free State, from which developments of the utmost importance must ensue in the near future.

While Gen. Rundle is preparing to strike De Wets Dorp, Gens. Brabant and Hart are pushing along the frontier of Basutoland, where they will be able to frustrate any attack on Gen. Rundle's right, and Gens. French and Pole-Carew are hastening from Bloemfontein to the Boer line of retreat northwards.

In the meanwhile, the burgher forces occupying Thaba Nchu are in a position to fight a delaying action, giving the Boer forces at De Wets Dorp and Wepener time to retire in case of defeat and it seems as though Gen. French must dispose of this Thaba Nchu force before he can reach the rear of the Boer forces opposing Gens. Rundle and Brabant, otherwise his flank will be open to assault.

The Boers driven out of Leeuwkop will probably rally at Thaba Nchu, where a stiff fight may be expected. Should the British fall in this attempt to bring about another Paardeberg, it must immensely affect the later issues of the war as it will undoubtedly lead to a persistent repetition of the guerrilla tactics which have been largely responsible for the penning up of Lord Roberts at Bloemfontein for so many weeks.

During the course of Gen. Alderson's advance on Leeuwkop, the Canadians found themselves in a tight corner yesterday near Donkerpoort. The Canadian mounted infantry, however, recovered the Boer position approached within 200 yards of a farm flying the hostile flag, which cover of which the Boers were using as a hot fire on the Canadians that they were unable to attempt to retire until another force was sent to their retreat by threatening the rear of the Boer position.

Leeuw Kop.

Leeuw Kop, Monday, April 23.—The Boers retired from their positions here so hurriedly that they left a quantity of ammunition and rifles behind them. When the Warwickshire regiment took the farm house at the foot of the ridge the Boers' pompanos inflicted no damage, the Boers being driven along the Warwickshire's left and approached the ridge, experiencing a cross fire.

When the Boers fled they were obliged to move for some distance along the sky line, and the British artillery plants with great accuracy, rolling over three horses.

Gen. Pole-Carew's admirable disposition of his force thoroughly puzzled the Boers, who were unable to see the direction of the attack owing to a deep fog.

The British artillery was unable to join the rest in time to reply to the Boer gun which was shelling the mounted infantry vigorously. The shells, however, burst 300 yards high and did no damage.

It is stated that Gen. De Wet built the waterworks with a strong force. The Boers who held Leeuw Kop trooped to Gen. Wepener's camp, sent out a body of cavalry to the south. A few shots were heard, but apparently the Boers do not hold the position where in close proximity to Leeuw Kop.

HELP FOR RUNDLE.

Roberts Sends Relief For Wepener Relief Force.

London, April 24.—The war office late last evening issued the following dispatch from Lord Roberts, dated Bloemfontein, Monday, April 23, 2:20 p. m.

"Yesterday I dispatched the Eleventh division under Gen. Pole-Carew and two brigades of cavalry under Gen. French from this position to assist Gen. Rundle. The force reached Kariefontein without much opposition. Casualties reported: Welsh regiment—Privates killed, Capt. Prothery mortally wounded and seven men wounded; Light Horse—Eight killed; Hussars—One killed, one wounded; Fourteenth Hussars—One killed; Royal artillery—Two wounded; Seventh Dragoons—Lieut. Jenkins and ten missing; Capt. Rotton, Royal artillery, broke an arm by a fall.

Gen. Pole-Carew's mounted infantry seized Leeuw Kop, a high hill, a few miles north of their last night's position. The enemy evacuated hurriedly, leaving some rifles and ammunition. A Boer dispatch, dated Thaba Nchu, April 20, says that a fresh supply of ammunition was sent to the Boers at De Wet at Jammersburg Drift and it also asserts that one of Dalgety's guns has been sent there.

Kariefontein, mentioned in Lord Roberts's dispatch to the war office, is fifteen miles south of Bloemfontein. Leeuw Kop is two miles further south. Apparently the British captured Paardeberg Saturday night. The Boers evacuated Leeuw Kop during the night, leaving the guns and the British occupied the kop the next morning.

CANADIANS IN ACTION.

Bloemfontein, April 24.—Col. Alderson's corps of mounted infantry, consisting of the First Battalion of the First Canadian Regiment, and the Second Canadian Battalion, were engaged in the operations of Gen. Pole-Carew and Gen. French. Alderson had undertaken to drive the

CLARK TO RESIGN

The Montana Man Has Made Up His Mind
to Quit.

JOHN AT THE BOARD

He Will Ask His State
For a Vote of Confidence.

New York, April 24.—The Herald says William A. Clark, of Montana, will resign his seat in the United States senate.

The communication by which he will make known to the senate his intentions has already been prepared. It may be presented this afternoon. It may be held until later in the session, but it will be handed in before the senate has acted upon the report of the committee on privileges and elections, declaring that he was not duly and legally elected.

Senator Clark will carry his resignation with him when he goes to the capitol today.

It is known that Senator Clark has come to the conclusion that the most dignified course for him to pursue is to withdraw gracefully, and to go before the people of his state with a request that they give him a vote of confidence and again send him to Washington.

Boers from their line of defense south of the waterworks, the Canadians sustaining a heavy fire. The Boers shelled Alderson, who made a marching movement around Leeuw Kop, on the extreme left of the Boer position. When the British battery opened fire the Boers removed the gun. Leeuw Kop was found evacuated yesterday morning. Gen. Dickson's cavalry brigade, which made a wide detour to the left, found it further progress barred by a strong Boer position.

GET BRABANT'S HORSES.

Boers Capture a Herd of Horses and Cattle.

Pretoria, Monday, April 23.—An official bulletin issued here today says: The federals continue their fighting at Wepener and have captured a herd of Gen. Brabant's cattle and horses.

Gen. De Wets' forces at Leeuw Kop were one man killed and six men wounded. Twenty British were captured, besides the killed and wounded. The British appear to be retreating beyond De Wets Dorp.

"Cronje reports that with a strong command he attacked the British north of Leeuw Kop. The British were followed and the English were driven from kopje to kopje. The federals, besides the killed and wounded, fifteen men killed and left three wounded. The Boers captured the bodies of the eight prisoners in the hands of the Boers.

The Cronje referred to is undoubtedly Commandant Cronje, the second son of the famous Cronje, who was taken prisoner on the island of St. Helena.

CAPE RIFLES SUFFER.
Boer Camp, Thaba-Nchu, April 23.—Robertson's lower mill is reported to have been captured April 23, and it is said that the Cape mounted rifles have been dispersed. The Boers captured the British prisoners, drove the burghers to capture Col. Dalgety's camp, even if the Boers are not driven out of the camp, a number of relatives are fighting on opposite sides at Wepener.

BALLOON FOR BOERS.
St. Petersburg, April 24.—The papers announce the departure for South Africa of a body of aeronauts to organize a military balloon service for the Transvaal. They took the necessary balloons and accessories with them.

AT WARRENTON.
Warrenton, Monday, April 23.—Shelling was resumed this morning, the fire from the British being very accurate. The Boers appear to be in stronger force down the river, and the yomanry patrols are frequently "sniped." It is confidently believed that important developments are not far off.

MEXICAN TOWN BURNED.

Panama, an Important Place on the East Coast.

City of Mexico, April 24.—Panama, Mexico, one of the most important trading towns on the east coast of the republic of Mexico, thirty miles west of the seaport of Tampico, has been entirely destroyed by fire. Panama is a town of 11,000 persons on the Panama river. Thatch roofed huts and modern frame business blocks surrounded by brush bushes constituted the town. There were no fire fighting appliances in the city. Loss will aggregate $2,250,000.

WARREN DOKED.

San Francisco, April 24.—The transport Warren went into the dry dock today, and later in the week will begin taking on supplies at the transport dock for Manila. The steamer will be able to take only about one-third the number of men assigned to duty to ships who were expected to sail on her. The transport Westminister and Asiatic have been re-chartered to carry freight to Manila.

GROVETON SCORCHED.

Houston, Tex., April 24.—Half the business portion of Groveton, Trinity county, was burned early today. Loss, $50,000.

ARGYLE DEAD.

Washington, April 24.—The judiciary committee of the house today directed a favorable report on the bill providing means of indemnifying foreigners injured in person or property through mob violence or otherwise in this country. The measure grows out of the lynching of Italians in Louisiana and the representations made by Italy through Baron Fava, the Italian ambassador. As affairs of this kind were of frequent occurrence, each time threatening diplomatic complications, the president recommended a general measure of redress, and the bill now reported seems to carry out this recommendation. The text of the bill as finally adopted is:

"That any person or foreign state claiming of the United States under a treaty or upon the principles of international law indemnity for injury to person or property may bring suit upon such claim in the court of claims. Such sections and provisions of chapter 353 of the acts of 1887 as are applicable to the court of claims shall apply to and govern the initiation of such suits and all subsequent proceedings therein.

"Provided, that the provisions of this act shall apply only to the citizens or subjects of those foreign states according to the rights and privileges of the citizens of the United States, and provided that no suit shall be brought after the expiration of two years from the accruing of such claim or cause of action: And provided further, that it shall be defense to such suit that the plaintiff has made his domicile in the United States more than a year continuous prior to the accruing of such alleged claim or cause of action."

In case the bill becomes a law, it is understood that its provision will cover cases arising one year prior to the enactment, which probably would include the last Italian affairs in Louisiana.

Pennsylvania Republi-

Harrisburg, Pa., April 24.—It is hard to make a reliable forecast of the Republican convention here tomorrow as few of the leaders are on the ground. It is conceded that the convention will be controlled by the friends of Col. Quay.

Not a single name is mentioned for the presidency, and it is believed that the choice will be made by the selection of M. S. Quay, Governor Stone, Attorney General, ex-Senator Proctor and Col. James Elverson, of Philadelphia; ex-Congressman J. C. Pennington, of Lancaster; ex-Senator B. V. Green, of Emporium, as the delegates at large to the national convention.

Congressman William McConnell, of Scranton, is believed to be the best hope to have the convention endorse Postmaster General Smith for vice president.

Pittsburgh, April 24.—A movement that may result in harmonizing the interest of the tint and the green bottle manufacturers of the country and possibly the formation of a big combination is assuming definite shape. Representatives of both branches of the bottle industry have arrived in the city and have been consulting on various propositions looking toward the establishment of uniform conditions in various lines of trade.

Among the matters to be considered are uniform prices, packing system and freight rates. A general meeting of the manufacturers will be held here tomorrow to act upon the reports of the various committees.

Canton, Ohio, April 24.—President and Mrs. McKinley and party arrived in the city at 10:10 o'clock this morning. In deference to the announcement of the president's friends that he came here for rest and to look after private interests, no public demonstration was arranged. But in spite of this there was a large crowd of friends and fellow citizens at the station when the train rolled in, and a mighty volume of cheers went up as the president and Mrs. McKinley stepped from the train.

An informal reception committee was also at the station to bid welcome. The carriages were driven by the most direct route to the M. C. Barber home, where the party are to be entertained during their several days' visit in Canton by Mr. and Mrs. Barber.

centrates himself there. The way he has been doing it in Duluth this spring,
the "record breakers" of The Herald have testified.

The most widely advertised, and perhaps the most successful advertising merchant is John Wamaker. It is said that he spends more than $500,000 a year advertising, and he does it almost, if not entirely, in newspapers, and it is to newspaper advertising that he attributes the success of his store in New York and Philadelphia.

The manager of Wallack's theater, in New York, recently between the acts distributed to the audience a note, asking the reader to indicate, by a check mark in the flat of advertising forms employed, which one had attracted him to the performance, whether newspapers, billboards, window lithographs or what. The audience took kindly to the idea, and the response was most liberal. Eleven hundred slips were returned to the ushers, and of these it is recorded that they had been attracted to the performance by the newspaper alone. There is hardly any doubt that any sort of investigation would show the same thing. It is part of the growth of the time. We spend more time over newspapers than any other people. The wise man who has something to say to the people knows this, and concentrates himself on the columns of the newspaper. He does not resort to dodgers or circulars or by bills plastered on deal walls.

EDUCATING THE TRUSTS.

The local organ of the trusts is very much opposed to "unking" with the tariff, particularly if such "unking" consists of the repeal of duties on articles controlled by trusts. It knows that the opening of our markets to foreign competition would destroy the monopoly possessed by the trusts, break down the extortionate prices charging the people for articles they control, and put an end to these pernicious combinations. This is why "it flies into a passion whenever The Herald presents an argument in favor of a revision of the features of the Dingley tariff that have created and now foster and protect gigantic trusts. The argument of the late David A. Wells, made in 1892 against the McKinley tariff, that was repudiated at the polls by the people by a heavy majority, was repeated yesterday by The Herald as equally applicable to the present Dingley tariff. Unable to answer Mr.
Wells' argument, the organ of the trusts says it is old and not worthy of consideration, because the Wilson tariff was passed by a Democratic congress subsequently and did not destroy a single trust. This is certainly a brilliant argument, when every one knows that the Wilson tariff was not the bill originally passed by the Democratic house, but was framed by the Senate and the representatives of the trusts belonging to both the great political parties. Those who agreed with Mr.
Wells' ideas had no hand in its preparation. It was the handiwork of the New York Tribune's trust organ.
And when the Republicans regained control of the house, they framed the Dingley tariff that was still more favorable to the trusts.

The Herald recently published a carefully prepared table showing the prices of a score of articles produced by trusts, and the protection of tariff duties in this country and in England. This table shows that the articles are of importance in many American industries, and that they enter either directly or indirectly. The effect of the higher price here is to put all production in which these articles are used on a high and, to that extent, artificial basis. The American people are justly proud of their expanding export trade, and their ability to compete has been shown to be remarkable in so many cases as to stimulate the laudable ambition for world markets, and the consequent increase of home industry. And yet, as appears, at the foundation of our manufacturing enterprise, the trusts, protected by the tariff, are able to exact from materials needed in many phases of industry a price greater than the foreign competitors in these lines pay for the same material.
The opposition to trusts, which has grown for so many years, continues to grow. Whatever disposition may be made as to their regulation, one of the first steps in the popular feeling is for the removal of the special privileges that the government gives them by means of the tariff. The table presented will bear repetition:

THE PAY OF FIREMEN

Council Increases It After a Long and Spirited Debate.

ASSESSMENT REBATE

Ald. Cochrane Makes Some Remarks Reflecting on Past Settlements.

Last night the council went the limit. The aldermen took a whirl at everything from the burning question of firemen's pay down to subterfuges, vandilism, and finally gave permission for the latter out in the West End without the regular theatrical license fee.

Alderman Neff called up his resolution of several weeks ago, appropriating $2500 a month from the general fund to be used in increasing the pay of firemen at a rate of $5 a month. The resolution was adopted after a bitter argument by a vote of 10 to 2. Mr. Neff, in bringing the resolution before the council, said that the money would simply increase the pay of the firemen $5 a month, and the line item or electricians $10 a month. He said:

"The gentlemen of the council are already perfectly familiar with the extremely low pay of our firemen, and the heavy expenses they incur in having to live near the fire halls, where rent is high, the cost of their clothing, which is likely to be destroyed at any moment, and the danger of their position. You are all familiar with this, and I will not dwell on that feature of the resolution tonight. I will simply say that our firemen, working through one long winter, incurring many risks and additional items of expense not incurred in other lines of service, receive less pay than the common laborer working on the streets of Duluth ten hours a day. However, you are familiar with this, and I merely wish to call your attention to a few financial points involved.

"I have no recollection of the financial condition of the city, as some of you are inclined to think. My past record will show you that I have been as economical as any alderman in this council. If not more so. And this comes to a question of wages for city employees. I draw the line. There is plenty of other places where we can save money to a better advantage. What is more, I consider it the duty of this council to see that the city is run on a basis of economy. The fire department, whose efficient service the fire insurance rates of this city have been reduced $100,000 in the past four years are paid for their work. There will be no trouble in raising the money. For during the next year there will be twelve new liquor licenses, which means an additional $12,000 to the city's treasury. By our advantage of the refunding act last summer we will save $20,000 in interest charges this year.

"I desire to also call attention of the aldermen from the first and eighth wards that have not been paid. Both firemen will be particularly benefited by this resolution. They are receiving less than $2 a day now, and this is designed to give them a better salary, while in some of the central fire halls, that have not been paid for some time, will not be changed. Gentlemen, you will find that this is a very good economy, especially in this department."

Alderman Krummel, chairman of the finance committee, called to Mr. Neff's saying: "As the committee on finance has reported several times there are no persons that appreciate the position of the firemen more than we, and no persons who would take greater pleasure in raising their salaries than we. I am myself, but I simply don't do my duty as chairman of this committee, to say that at the present rate of expense the fire department is going to run $750,000 behind in the next year. The current running expenses. Then there is an additional $3000 already from the general fund to equal the cost of the engine, and $5000 has already been expended for the purchase of the engine, which must be paid back to the general fund. This will leave a deficiency of over $15,000 in this fund at the end of the present year.

Alderman Carey and Cromwell backed the statements of Alderman Krummel in short speeches, and Alderman Hays supported Mr. Neff's resolution, saying that it would be a great relief to the city elsewhere than to curtail the efficiency of the fire department by losing road money. He said that the city should at least be entitled to the same pay as given patrolmen.

The vote was then taken, and the resolution increasing the salaries declared adopted.

Another storm center developed when Alderman Wing moved the reconsideration of the resolution adopted last week creating a board of review to take care of all requests for assessment rebates and compromises.

Alderman Cochrane, who conceived the idea of having such a board, and through whose efforts the resolution was adopted last week, waited to hear the reasons for the reconsideration, but having none, he said:

"Well, if nothing can be said in favor of this motion, I can say a few things against it. Two years ago in the assets of this city there was $1,100,000 in city assessments unpaid. Now through what appears to be indiscriminate rebates this has been reduced to $325,000. Men come in here and talk fearfully about exchanging mortgages and inequities, but I am willing to grant that the great reduction of city assets in assessments referred to by Alderman Cochrane was not entirely due to rebates, but $800,000 had been wiped out by the forfeited tax sale, of which nearly $200,000 was in the hands of the property. The vote to reconsider carried by a vote of 10 to 5, and the consideration was postponed one week.

The city attorney was given authority to bring action against the Duluth Telephone company to enforce the resolution passed on Feb. 13 last, ordering that company to remove all its poles and wires from the streets of Duluth.

Alderman Cromwell introduced a resolution instructing the city attorney to go before the court and obtain an order compelling the Duluth Street Railway company to comply with the council's recent demand for a fifteen minute service on the East Fourth street line. Alderman Neff, of the ordinance committee, said that the company had been to him and stated that a 15-minute service could not be arranged, but that they would be able to put on a 20-minute service, with an increase of the speed limit to six miles an hour on East Fourth street. Alderman Cromwell took occasion to recall that many weeks ago an ordinance was referred to the committee granting the street car company the right to increase its speed of the Duluth street car line, and with considerable sarcasm referred to the ordinance committee as the "graveyard" committee, owing to the fact that so much of the work referred to it is never heard of again. Later Mr. Neff introduced a report against the 20-mile-an-hour ordinance. Mr. Cromwell's original resolution to have the street car line increased to six miles an hour was laid over for a week.

A resolution carried appointing T. B. Hawkes, James Thompson and W. Hartley condemnation commissioners in the matter of the proposed opening and widening of Jefferson street from Twenty-second to Forty-fourth avenues east.

The American Exchange and First National banks were again designated as depositories for city money, and each required to give bonds in the sum of $100,000.

The matter of improving Fifth avenue east from second street to Fourth street and the paving of Second avenue west from Superior street to First street, both petitioned for by the majority of the property owners to be assessed, was referred to the board of public works for report on expense and benefits, to be made next week.

The ordinance committee reported an amendment to the anti-obstructing sidewalk ordinance granting all persons in business, or who must be seen, the right of any building the right to have signs and show cases at the entrance to the building, provided they do not extend over the sidewalk more than fifteen inches. The report was received and the ordinance was passed.

The special committee on Park Point ferry service reported in favor of a plan to advertise for bids to conduct the service for the summer, and granting the board of public works the right to supply a steam ferry service in case a private enterprise failed to do so.

The report was received and the ordinance was passed.

Full city residents, taxpayers and voters of the West end and the vicinity of Twenty-eighth avenue west petitioned the council not to grant a license to the south end of the city for a liquor refreshment house at the corner of Superior street and Twenty-eighth avenue, and that the license be used heretofore for residence purposes exclusively, and that all children going to and from the Monroe and Bryant schools would have to pass the school.

The petition was referred to the committee on police and license.

About twenty property owners on Twenty-seventh avenue west petitioned for the improvement of that street from Michigan street to the bay front, with a viaduct over the Duluth, Missabe & Northern tracks. About twenty property owners from the same neighborhood petitioned against the proposed improvement. Both petitions were referred to the committee on bridges and viaducts.

Suing Lane For Damages.

E. A. Lane, who was plaintiff in a suit for false imprisonment in district court, not long ago, is now a defendant in two similar cases together with the Bilsen Lumber company. The suits are brought by Peter J. Cockett and John Lariche. Lane was agent for the company in employing men. It is claimed, and he caused the arrest of the plaintiffs for having accepted transportation from Duluth to Mountain Iron to work for the company, and then deserting. They were arrested Jan. 23 and were released the next day on payment of $2 each for their release. The suits were filed. They each ask $2000 damages and $4.00 for loss of time and money paid for their release. W. G. Bonham is the attorney.

BADLY DEMORALIZED

Dealers Do Not Know What to Expect—Are Afraid of Gates.

The cut in the price of nails made by the American Steel and Wire company has taken effect in Duluth, in fact it went into effect last Saturday. In last evening's Herald it was stated that an advertisement referring to a reduction of $1 a keg in the price of nails. This is a very heavy cut. None of the hardware men knew when there will be an advance, and they are all at sea.

Inquiry among the hardware men yesterday showed that there is a very bitter feeling toward John W. Gates, who is held responsible for the trouble. The situation is entirely demoralized, and there is not a hardware man that dares to place an order of any size at all. He does not know what minute there may be another cut, and then he would be out the amount of it. All the hardware men believe that Gates has worked the trade for the benefit of his stock holding. About six weeks ago there was a tip passed around that there would not be a decrease of 25 cents in the price of wire nails. This was undoubtedly given out to induce purchases. In the meantime the American Steel and Wire company had been much more than a year. It is a fairly large cut to be announced, but a cut of $1 a keg is unprecedented. Strange to say the price of barbed wire, which is much higher in proportion than that of wire nails, has not been reduced. There have been many stock jobbing schemes among the men in Wall street, but there has probably never been one which has been so successful. The men who handle the companies whose stocks are manipulated are generally careful not to demonstrate to the business men of the country. There is no doubt that the situation that was begun by John W. Gates was a tempting one. He had sold many thousands of shares of the American Steel and Wire company stock, more than 100,000 shares, it is said. Most of this had been sold at around $50 a share. He had been cutting the price of his products it was easily possible for him to have sold the stock at a profit of $10 a share, and he was at least a $100,000 ahead.

The result is, however, that the trade of the country which handles the products of his plants will never have confidence in him again, and so long as he is at the head of the company will be afraid of some such coup again. He has also led a great many to believe that the American Steel and Wire company is going to interfere with men who use the industries in their control for such purposes.

LEWIS MORRISON IN "FAUST."
The famous "Brink" scene in Lewis Morrison's "Faust" is a fascinating reproduction of the original, supposed to be the work of the great German dramatist, Goethe. Morrison, who went to Germany with Boniface, has his advent there in the scene of the annual meeting of the witches when he is cast, and, according to the general belief, he is now in the hands of the devil. KILLED AT CROOKSTON.

Mrs. L. A. Larson, Formerly of This City, Accidentally Shot.

The funeral of Mrs. L. A. Larson, wife of the senior member of Crookston foundry firm of Larson & Espe, who was accidentally killed at Crookston Sunday, will be held in Duluth. Mr. Larson was formerly boiler inspector and lived at Nineteenth avenue west. Mrs. L. A. Larson, of 1809 West First street, is a sister of the dead woman. The remains arrived here this morning and the funeral will be held at 2 o'clock tomorrow afternoon from Grace Methodist church.

The accident, according to the Crookston Tribune, is one of the saddest events in the history of Crookston. A little lad 9 years old will always have entered in the harbor thought that he killed his beloved mother. The accident is particularly heart rending and the husband and three little children have the sincere sympathy of every body in their sad affliction.

Mr. Larson, in company with another gentleman, had been away in the vicinity of Goose Lake Thursday and Friday when the accident occurred. The accident is particularly heart rending and the husband and three little children have the sincere sympathy of every body in their sad affliction.

The funeral takes place at Duluth. The remains will be taken tomorrow. Services will be held at the house at 8 o'clock tomorrow morning.

DANGER OF OCEAN WRECK.

It is stated that the Atlantic ocean is covered with icebergs, and that the drift hither and thither, and as their positions change with the winds and tides, they are a constant menace to ocean traffic. Because of the great expense they are not destroyed until they are almost too large to be seen. Like this is the action of many persons, who wait until they are ill before treating such dangerous symptoms as indigestion, dyspepsia, constipation, liver or kidney troubles. Don't allow them to become chronic. Hostetter's Stomach Bitters will clear the system of all impurities, making the blood rich and the nerves strong. It cures all stomach and liver disorders and is an unequalled spring medicine. See that a Private Revenue Stamp covers the neck of the bottle.

A FEARFUL DEATH.

A Man Jumps Into a Burning Coko Oven.

Connellsville, Pa., April 24.—Leaping high into the air as an expert diver would in taking a swim, a man, whose name was not given, jumped into a burning coke oven, an unknown man committed suicide yesterday at the foundry works of the H. C. Frick Coke company by diving into a coke oven. In less than a minute he had been a man apparently in the full vigor of life, had melted with the coke smoke of the oven, distinguishable only by the fact that he was still in the oven. For the first time in the history of the coke industry, a man has been killed by jumping into a burning coke oven.

May Term of Court.
Tomorrow is the last day for filing notes of issue for the May term of district court. The cases now on file are the last to be filed for the term. The term begins a week from tomorrow on the opening day of the term. So far the number of new cases begun is not large, but as the May term is the last one before fall it is probable that there will be quite a rush of cases tomorrow.

The Park Point Ferry.

It seems that once more, with your permission, I must intrude on your valuable space in order to stir up the mayor, the city council and the taxpayers and citizens in general on the subject of the city ferry. Under the M. J. Davis regime, Morris Thomas, R. C. Kennedy, J. Dingwall, M. Sorensen, and if I am not mistaken, the present mayor and some in the council that I cannot recall at this time, visited the Point on two or three different occasions and a talk was had on the subject of annexation. They all promised that in case we threw up the sponge and came under the existing laws of the city a steam ferry would be provided. But the point council at that time, not having much faith in promises, held out until an act of the legislature in 1880 changed the word "excepting" to "including" in the description of the city limits, thus making the Point a part of the city. Things ran along until July 1, 1880, when the Point was annexed to the city. The Northwestern regatta was held and representatives of the city council authorized a steam ferry to be put on during the regatta and has maintained a ferry, mainly rowboats, ever since. The city has expended about $700 in competitive plans and sounding. A thing is accomplished and now the city is in a position to build a steam ferry. This is not a matter of cost record. It means put up with the city to maintain a steam ferry. If it is not maintained in 1880 or 1879, there was an agreement between the city of Duluth and the residents living south of the city to maintain a steam ferry. This agreement is a matter of cost record. It means put up with the city to maintain a steam ferry. If it is not maintained in 1880 or 1879, there was an agreement between the city of Duluth and the residents living south of the city to maintain a steam ferry.

LABOR'S OPPORTUNITY.

A Splendid Chance for the Workingmen of America to Show Their Colors.

There is not a workingman in America but that knows that if the trusts are allowed to carry out their purpose, his condition inside of a few years will be bad. The workingman, however, has it in his power to destroy these monopolies by refusing to buy trust-made goods. Take chewing tobacco for example.

The Wilson-McCallay Tobacco company, of Middletown, Ohio, is Union from start to finish and makes the choicest brands of plug tobacco. They are known to be equal to any and superior to most of the market. The brands are: Gold Rope, Kingbird, Rise and Shine, Thrasher.

The Union label appears on all these brands. You may be using some well-known brand of tobacco that formerly was made by an independent concern, but which is now being made by a trust.

You can ascertain this by inquiring of your dealer. If you find it to be trust-made, avoid it, and you and others doing this same thing will be the direct cause of breaking the trust. Paste this list in your hat and stand to your labor colors!

The Flying Mogul and the Twins.

The Chicago, Burlington & Quincy railroad has a pair of big twin engines, 1891 and 1892. They are only a little over a year old and weigh 127 tons a piece.

They have great wheels, 84½ inches in diameter and compound cylinders extra large. As a matter of fact, they are the biggest passenger engines ever built, and as to fast running, they have been the whole thing.

Now what do you suppose happened?

A mogul, class H-2, No. 1091, fairly well born, to be sure, but comparatively a lightweight, with but very little brass work about her, used principally in the freight service and considered an excellent steady old girl, was the other day in a case of emergency hooked on to the fast fall No. 8 at Burlington, and came sailing into Chicago, 208.8-10 miles, in exactly 26 minutes—after stopping on the way seven times to take a drink.

At Mendota she stopped six minutes and the story goes that something stronger than water was given her there, because on leaving the town she felt so shaky that Aurora's 4-10 miles away, was reached in just forty minutes. A rate of 68.1-10 miles an hour for a mogul! Engineer Giffert, the Conductor Culberson say it was all done on the square and that she had nothing to drink at Mendota but pure water.

Well, at any rate, the twins are fast, and they are puffing and blowing about what they will do the next time down the line. They never liked the mogul, and say she is a fast old thing. Probably after this they won't whistle as she passes by.

RELIEF OF WEPENER

Reported That the British Have Occupied It After Heavy Fighting.

BRITISH IN DE WETS

De Wets Dorp Is Occupied By Chermide Without Opposition.

Herschel, Cape Colony, Tuesday, April 24.—It is reported that the British have occupied Wepener after heavy fighting. It is also said that the Boers are unable to escape to the north and that great developments are expected.

London, April 25, 2:35 p. m.—Lord Roberts has telegraphed the following message to the war office:

"Bloemfontein, April 25.—De Wets Dorp was occupied by Chermide without opposition at 2:30 o'clock this morning."

Allwal North, Tuesday, April 24.—It is reported that firing has been heard between Zastron and Wepener, and it is believed that Gen. Brabant and Hart are in contact with the enemy.

ALL RESTS ON FRENCH.

He Plays the Main Part in Roberts' Plan.

London, April 25.—The indecisive action and slow progress of Gen. Hart and Brabant are relatively unimportant when compared with the progress of Gen. French.

It is now evident that Lord Roberts will not only defeat the Boers, but to pin them down as an army. He has concentrated in the south-eastern portion of the Orange Free State and is operating according to carefully devised plans in which the delay may be as much due to strategy as to necessity.

The success of this important movement depends on Gen. French. If he can sweep down from the north with the rapidity of execution which he has displayed in the past, he will effect the success of the campaign. According to the latest accounts, he is making good progress.

According to the latest accounts, he is making good progress. The Boers estimated to be in the south-eastern part of the Orange Free State, the Boers have been taken large numbers. The British officers differ regarding the results, some declaring it is impossible for the Boers to escape from the net, while others reserve their opinion until more definite news of Gen. French's progress is received.

TO ENGLAND.

Roberts Extends Visit.

London, April 25, 4:50 p. m.—The war office has received the following dispatch from Lord Roberts: "Bloemfontein, April 25.—Pole-Carew's division reached Bloemfontein this morning. The advance was covered by cavalry and horse artillery, which drove back the enemy's line. The Boers were being left on the ground. The mounted troops halted for the night at Groenfontein, and at 7:30 this morning were crossing the Modder river at Valsburg. In accordance with my instructions to French to endeavor to place himself astride the enemy's line of retreat, French's arrival near the Modder yesterday, however, alarmed the Boers, who evacuated their strong position near De Wets Dorp during the night, and it was occupied by Chermide's division this morning."

The mounted infantry under Lord Hamilton drove the enemy off the kopjes in the neighborhood of the waterworks without casualties on our side.

"The Highland brigade marched twenty-four miles and halted for the night at Klipkraal, four miles short of Sandfontein."

"Brabant and Hart are still a few miles short of Wepener, and the number of the enemy's losses is somewhat increased during the last few days. But it is unlikely there will be much more fighting in the neighborhood of Wepener."

THE BOERS ADVANCE.
Take a Strong Position Against Brabant and Hart.

Maseru, Basutoland, Tuesday, April 24.—On the breaking up of the Boer force this morning, Gen. Brabant and Hart discovered that the Boers, who had been taken to the night several miles nearer to Sticksfontein, were in a favorable position for a surprise attack.

Col. Dalgety was severely attacked with six guns this morning, probably with a Constantinople, April 25.—In view of the steps taken by the United States government in regard to the claims arising out of the Armenian massacres, the embassies at Great Britain, France, Austria, Italy and Germany have asked their governments for instructions as to their similar claims.

The promulgation of the trade agreement for the building of the American structure turned, and the engagement of the Roberts college, is regarded as showing clearly the desire of Yildiz to be reasonable to the United States. In the hope that the latter will not press for the payment of the indemnity, the United States has also succeeded in obtaining permission for the continued working of the American missions for the hospital at Katsakereh, which the authorities have been trying to shut up on the pretext that certain local regulations had not been observed.

ALABAMA DEMOCRATS.

Ford Seems to Be the Favorite For Governor.

Montgomery, Ala., April 25.—Greater interest centers in the Democratic state convention, which began its sessions here today, than has been aroused by any similar gathering in this state for many years. The number of candidates and the large proportion of uninstructed delegates makes the fight for the governorship an open contest. At present the chief number favor the nomination of Sam Ford for governor. Congressman Stallins comes next in point of strength and will have an important influence in deciding upon the nominee.

The contest for the minor offices will be narrowed by the almost certain nomination of the present adjutant general, secretary of state and superintendent of education. For auditor and treasurer, there will be a close contest. Senator Morgan was chosen chairman of the convention.

WANT OUR COAL.

THE G. O. P. WISCONSIN GATHERING

The Buckeye Republicans Meet in Convention and Nominate State Officers.

NOT A HITCH OCCURS

Platform Declares For McKinley Doctrines From 'A' to 'Z'.

Columbus, Ohio, April 25.—The Republican state convention assembled at 10:30 a. m. Prayer was offered by Rev. John Hewett. The reports of the committees were adopted, including the one making the temporary organization permanent, when Chairman R. M. Nevin, without further speechmaking, proceeded to dispatch business.

The committee on credentials found the only contest in Washington county, seating both delegations with each having one-half vote. Ex-Representative Taylor, who led the opposition, insisted this report would be like congress allowing Roberts, of Utah, one-fourth vote and his three wives each one-fourth vote. Taylor's motion to seat the delegates selected under the call of the state committee and unseat the contestants carried, Yeas, 455; nays, 368.

Gen. Grosvenor, from the committee on resolutions, then reported the following platform which was adopted: "The Republicans in convention assembled hereby renew their faith in and adherence to the declaration of principles made by the Republican party in St. Louis in 1860, and in its amendments, and in all respects the true principles of the Republican party."

TOUCHING TRIBUTE

Dewey Given a Watch By the Children of the Northwest.

A MINNESOTA IDEA

Congressman McCleary Presents the Gift and Admiral Feelingly Responds.

Washington, April 25.—Admiral Dewey received a delegation at Beauvoir, his country home, today, which represented 50,000 children in the Northwest, and prepared to him as a token of their regard and esteem of the donors a beautiful gold watch and fob.

About six months ago Archie Cadsw, of Rosemont, Minn., suggested to the Minneapolis Journal that the children of the Northwest raise money by 5 to 25 cent subscriptions with which to purchase a watch for Admiral Dewey. This met with favor, but in order that there might be no differences of interest in the matter and that all might share alike, it was decided to restrict the contribution to a gift of 1 cent. The collection of the money, which came from several Northwest states, involved so much work that the Journal was obliged to apply to the newspapers of that section.

One hundred and seventy-five of them joined in the movement and assisted in receiving the money and receding for it by publishing the names of the contributors. All these names, together with a story of the enterprise made up from newspaper clippings and prepared in the form of a beautiful book, accompanied the watch.

The watch is 22-carat gold, bearing the inscription: "Presented to Admiral Dewey by the Children of Minnesota and the Northwest, May 1, 1900, each donor contributing 1 cent. Attached to a fob of very unique and beautiful design, made of gold and black gun metal. The watch and the fob are made from gold, black gun metal and copper obtained from the Philippines, the gun metal and copper being from ships destroyed in Manila harbor. The hours are marked on the gold dial not by Roman or Arabic numerals, but by the letters of the alphabet, and the hands being eleven of them and just enough to occupy the required spaces."

The watch was presented to the admiral in a neat address by Congressman James T. McCleary, of St. Paul, Minn., and also Archie Cadsw, the originator of the idea, who received from the admiral a hearty expression of thanks for this beautiful tribute of their esteem from the little people of the Northwest. Each of the donors holds a neat little certificate of an equal share in the gift, issued by the Minneapolis Journal.

Mr. McCleary, in making the presentation speech, said in part: "This tribute of the children of the Northwest is a matter of pride to his countrymen and the fact of being known is the tribute of possibilities to achievement. You may well regard it, sir, as a matter of special satisfaction and wholehearted pride to be known and honored by children. Their plaudits are sincere and unfeigned, and the fact of being known and honored by the children of the land is in itself the highest evidence of honorable fame. There are few men great enough to be named in a common school history. Brief, indeed, sir, will that history of your country be which will hereafter omit your name."

Admiral Dewey, in reply, said: "I value the praise of the children and the affectionate enthusiasm they show me, and I have never been more touched than now. So long as the children love me I am unassailable, for they are unerring in their intuitions and know when they are loved."

"That 50,000 little ones should make me so glad is a tribute which is the proudest triumph of my life. When I hear it tick and see its hands move, I shall say to myself, 'How rich you are, 50,000 innocent, kindly friends are with you, and my heart will swell with joy and gratitude; and you, my dear young friends, will tell them from me that I shall wear the watch and feel it shall be a talisman against all sorrow and a guarantee of happiness and success.'"

ECUMENICAL CONFERENCE.

Educational Work Discussed--Sectional Meetings Held.

New York, April 25.—Bishop Dudley of Kentucky led the opening exercises at today's session of the ecumenical conference. The regular day's work in Carnegie hall was the consideration of educational work. The Rev. Dr. W. T. Barber, head master of Leys school, Cambridge, Eng., and William T. Harrison, commissioner of education, both spoke at length on the subject, "The Place of Education in Christian Missions."

"The Necessity for Training Teachers" was discussed by the Rev. John W. Conklin, of the Bible mission. These papers were followed by short discussions by the Rev. Dr. W. T. Barber, head master of Leys school, Cambridge, Eng., and William T. Harrison, commissioner of education, both spoke at length on the subject, "The Place of Education in Christian Missions."

Evidently something in his face showed what was passing in his mind for a benevolent looking old gentleman who was taking part in the meeting.

PECULIAR SITUATION

More Towns That Compete the More Certain Is County Division.

THE LAW IS ASSININE

No Voter Can Vote For or Against More Than One Proposition.

There will be no compromise between the two towns concerned in the movement for the division of the county. Virginia and Evelyn will both fight it out and will present petitions to the governor. If regular bills propositions will be submitted to the governor and will be voted on by the people this fall.

The average person will say at once that this will defeat division for the towns favoring it. It is divided the negative side will be sure to win. This is not so certain as it would appear. An attorney who has been looking up the law says that the act was to get the county divided is to get as many towns as possible to present propositions. The Minnesota law bearing upon the subject is peculiar, very peculiar—assinine, one attorney puts it, and must everyone else agree with him.

The people of Virginia have a petition out for the creation of a new county, to be known as Iron county. The petition is a very well written one, and is a very well written one. BISHOP WHIPPLE RETURNS.

Gets Home Greatly Benefitted by His Southern Trip.

St. Paul, April 25.—Bishop Whipple arrived yesterday in St. Paul, accompanied by his wife and his daughter, Mrs. Kendra. The church club gave a banquet at the Ryan hotel in honor of the bishop's home-coming, and Bishop Whipple was himself the chief speaker, telling of the events of his long journey to Porto Rico and his return there. In reply to an inquiry, Bishop Whipple stated that his health was at present, and had been all winter remarkably good.

Bishop Whipple stated that he had not determined as to whether a successor to Bishop Gilbert should be taken up by the diocesan council in St. Paul.

LUMBERMEN'S APPEAL.

Ontario Appeals Court Dismisses Action Attacking Cutting Act.

Toronto, Ont., April 25.—In the appeal of the Ontario Lumbermen's Association against the Ontario Cutting Act, the Ontario appeals court has decided in favor of the government's contention. The lumbermen, it is understood, will carry the case to the British privy council for final decision.

A SAXON CEMETERY.

Ancient Burying Ground Found at Newport Pagnell, England.

London, April 25.—What is believed to be an ancient Saxon cemetery was discovered on the Telford park estate, close to Newport Pagnell. The finds include a broken goblet of amber, several skeletons. Near the skeletons were found two double-edged iron swords and a socket spearhead, all in a state of perfect preservation. The discovery is of considerable importance in the history of the Saxons. Most of the relics have been sent to the Buckinghamshire county museum.

ARMY OF COOLIES COMING.

Thousands of Them Reported to Be Booked for This Country.

Seattle, Wash., April 25.—United States Immigration Agent Healey gives an interview on the Japanese delay in which he says the rush will cause a labor upheaval. Five thousand are on the high seas and are to come, he says. They will mostly land in British Columbia and sneak over the border into the United States. The plan of importation is in force. He says Canada and the states should take joint action at once.

PLANS CHANGED.

Chicago, April 25.—Admiral Dewey will not be in Chicago with William J. Bryan. The Seven O'clock club, which had arranged for the pleasure of the dinner at the Lakeside club, evening at the Lakeside club, has decided to change the date of the dinner to May 1.

Admiral Dewey will leave town on the evening of the 4th, and Col. Bryan can be expected to arrive in the city on the morning of the 5th. The officers of the club have little to say concerning the sudden change of plans excepting to regret that it is, it must be, a large affirmative vote by any of its competitors or rival candidates for the general.

BANQUET FOR BRYAN.

Wichita, Kan., April 25.—William J. Bryan arrived here yesterday. His visit was the occasion of a luncheon at the hotel, a Democratic organization embracing the state. Last night Mr. Bryan was the guest of honor at a banquet given by the Democratic club. The banquet was a most successful one, and the speaker was highly appreciated.

According to the decision of the supreme court, there would be a new county, with Evelyn as the county seat. Its proposition would have carried, and it would have received a plurality over the other proposition.

The trouble with the law is that it does not provide first of all for a vote for or against division as a single proposition.

City Band's Dance.

A large crowd attended the third annual dance of the City band in the Armory last night. During the evening fully 200 couples were on the floor, and the dancing and the galleries were well filled with spectators. The dance music furnished by the band was excellent, and altogether it was one of the most successful affairs in its line ever given in this city.

CONTAGIOUS BLOOD POISON

Contagious Blood Poison is the most degrading and destructive of all diseases, as it vitiates and corrupts the entire system. The first sore or ulcer is followed by little red pimples on the body, mouth and throat become sore, the glands enlarge and inflame, copper colored spots appear, and hair and eyebrows fall out. These are some of the milder symptoms; they increase in severity, finally attacking the vital organs; the body is tormented by rheumatic pains and covered with offensive scaling sores.

It is a peculiar poison, and so highly contagious that an innocent person handling the same articles used by one infected with this loathsome disease, may be inoculated with the virus. It can be transmitted from parent to child, appearing as the same disease or in a modified form—like Eczema or Scrofula. Many an old sore or stubborn skin trouble appearing in middle life, is due and traceable to blood poison contracted in early life. You may have taken potash and mercury faithfully for two or three years and thought you were cured, but you were not, for these poisonous minerals never cure this disease; they drive it from the outside, but it is doing its work on the inside, and will show up again sooner or later. It is not contagious as the same old taint, but it is. S. S. S. has cured thousands of cases of Contagious Blood Poison, and it will cure you. It is the only purely vegetable blood purifier known, and the only antidote for this poison. S. S. S. cleanses the blood thoroughly of every particle of the poison—there is never any return of the disease.

CURE YOURSELF AT HOME.

Send for our Home Treatment book, which gives a history of the disease in all stages, and is the result of many years of close study of blood poison and actual experience in treating it. You can cure yourself perfectly and permanently at home, and your secret is your own. Should you need any information or medical advice at any time, write to our physicians. They have made a life study of blood diseases, and will give you your letter prompt and careful attention. Consult them as often as you please; we make no charge whatever for this service. All correspondence is conducted in the strictest confidence.

THE VOTE ON QUAY.

Davis and Nelson in Favor of Seating Him.

Washington, April 25.—The vote in the senate on the Quay case was close. The resolution which declared Mr. Quay not entitled to his seat was first laid before the senate. Mr. Chandler moved to strike out the word "not," and on that point the vote was 41 to 37 in favor of the resolution declaring Quay not entitled to a seat, and was carried. The same as on the previous call. The vote on Mr. Chandler's motion was as follows:—

PLACE IN PORTO RICO

Being Sought For Gen. L. A. Grant of Minneapolis.

Minneapolis, April 25.—Washington correspondents have been hinting that a commission in Porto Rico was being appointed in Porto Rico, and consoling of plans have been wondering who the lucky man could be.

Gen. L. A. Grant is the man referred to. His name has been before the president for a place in Governor Bryan's cabinet, accompanied by the friends of the general. Grant's friends hope that the correspondents are well informed when they say a place is to be given to him.

Gen. Grant was first assistant secretary of war when Senator Proctor of Vermont was secretary of war during the Harrison administration. It is understood that Senator Proctor, who was a companion in arms of Gen. Grant during the civil war, is pulling hard for the general.

GETS IT BOTH WAYS.

Porto Rico in on the Internal Revenue Tax.

Washington, April 25.—Commissioner Wilson of the internal revenue bureau has received an inquiry as to whether under the new Porto Rican act, exported to Porto Rico will be required to be stamped under existing revenue regulations as applied for home consumption so that it can be removed under export stamps, as heretofore. In his reply the commissioner calls attention to the ruling of his office to the effect that Porto Rico is not a foreign country, and that therefore no refund duty can be allowed by way of drawback goods exported to that country. The commissioner holds that on and after May 1, 1900, articles subject to internal revenue tax cannot be exported to Porto Rico in bond on the benefit of drawback for the tax paid under internal revenue laws. Assistant Secretary Scoville also has rendered an opinion to much the same effect.
